JAPS SAY YANKS SPEED HELP TO RYUKYU FORCE

Tell Of '20-30 Transports' As Great Air And Ship Blows Rock Isles

By The Associated Press.

Japanese reported American transports are moving into the central Ryukyu chain today, where unprecedented large U. S. naval forces, rounding out a week of air and ship bombardments, left no doubt they are preparing for another major invasion.

The Tokyo radio said Okinawa, 325 miles south of Japan, is the major objective; that "20 to 30" transports are trying to reinforce U. S. troops already on the Kerama islands, 15 miles to the west, and that American movements indicate landing attempts also against Okino Daito, nearly 250 miles southeast of Okinawa.

U. S. Leaders Say Nothing

American commanders said nothing about this, but did announce their carrier and land-based planes hit 43 Nipponese ships and destroyed 38 planes. An enemy communique claimed 30 American warships were sunk and 14 damaged in the Ryukyu islands.

Radio Tokyo reported American sea-borne aircraft attacked Kure naval base on Honshu and ground installations on Kyushu island today.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced that in three days, beginning Sunday, carrier planes sweeping the length of the 700-mile-long Ryuku islands damaged 17 Nipponese ships, wrecked numerous small craft, wiped out 38 planes, battered submarine pens at Unten bay on the west coast of Okinawa and attacked all types of shore installations. "Some of our units," he said, were damaged.

57 Ships Sunk, Damaged

In 10 days the Pacific fleet has sunk or damaged 57 ships and 819 aircraft, while three of its ships have been damaged seriously and an unspecified number less seriously hurt.

Adm. Nimitz said naval bombardments continued Wednesday. The imperial communique indicated they are still underway, being centered on Okinawa, most strategic island of the chain.

Upwards of 200 super-Fortresses hit Kyushu Tuesday and an unconfirmed Japanese broadcast said other B-29's smacked it again Tuesday night.

Today's fleet communique also announced rocket, machine gun and bomb attacks on the Kurile islands, north of Japan proper, Tuesday.

Army Mustangs and Liberators hammered Suzaki airdrome and radar installations on Chichi Jima, near Iwo Jima, Monday. The next day they hit Chichi Jima and Haha Jima.

MORE OF BABY SHOES TO GO ON RATION LIST

Leather Sizes 0 To 4 Will Take Stamps On May 1

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 29 — Babies' leather shoes will require ration stamps after May 1.

As OPA announced this today, the office of civilian requirements disclosed it is seeking production of 150,000,000 pairs of "good" fabric shoes with synthetic rubber soles for adults to eke out dwindling supplies of leather footwear.

Manufacture at that annual rate, OCR Director William Y. Elliott said in an interview, would restore the two-pair-a-year standard which OPA dropped in December.

Objective of adding smaller sizes of infants' shoes to the ration program, OPA said, is to help build up critically-short supplies in the larger sizes.

The action puts sizes 0 to 4 on the same ration basis as other leather shoes.

OPA said the demand for the smaller sizes "has soared out of proportion to actual needs", with the result that those sizes "have absorbed too much of the manpower and production facilities and too much of the scarce types of leather suitable for making the much more urgently needed toddlers' sizes".

The agency predicted an increase in these sizes "within the next several months".

In discussing plans for fabric shoes, Mr. Elliott, who also is vice chairman of the war production

CEBU CITY FALLS TO YANK ATTACK

Important Harbor Area Left Virtually Intact By Japs

By The Associated Press.

MANILA, March 29—Doughboys pursued the Japanese into the hills north of Cebu City today, headquarters said, after that wrecked second city of the Philippines was captured in a two-day drive from the Yank's Cebu island beachhead on the east coast.

Troops inside the city fought scattered battles in heavily-mined streets, but for the most part the enemy is reported to have fled before Maj. Gen. William H. Arnold's Americal division.

The Japanese fought stubbornly Tuesday on the southern outskirts, but the 182nd regiment cleared the way. The capital city was entered from two sides Wednesday morning. American losses were light.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said the city of 150,000 was damaged badly by Japanese demolition crews. The important harbor area, however, was taken virtually intact.

Capture of the city was preceded by an attack of midget submarines on American shipping off the Cebu beachhead. The tiny craft struck during daylight Monday, forcing all unbeached ships to put to sea, where they remained until the next morning.

As the fleet headed toward shore again one of the midget subs probably was sunk.

The Americans, who have liberated 11 other towns on the island, drove the Japanese northward from Cebu City, while the supporting Far Eastern air force tore into enemy lines of communication.

Gen. MacArthur said the fighting on Luzon island has abated in the central and southern sectors. Japanese resistance is becoming "disconnected and sporadic" in those areas, he said, but remains strong in the north.

Bombers ranging the China sea sank seven freighters and damaged 16 others.

The Tokyo radio claimed, without headquarters confirmation, that 41st division Yanks who invaded Zamboanga on southwestern Mindanao and secured air bases there have sustained 5,500 casualties.

CITY STORES TO BEGIN HALF-DAY WEDNESDAY

Wednesday will mark the first of the customary mid-week half-day closings for East Liverpool's downtown merchants, effective through September, the Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce reminded shoppers today.

The Wednesday afternoon closing affects department stores and other dry goods establishments such as shoe and clothing retailers, furniture and hardware dealers and variety stores.

It does not cover drug stores, taverns and restaurants. Some food stores observe the six-months half-holidays, while others do not. Some establishments close Wednesday afternoons the entire year.

The half-day closing schedule was changed from last year, when it was in effect from March 1 through August 30.

NAZI MOTOR CONVOYS HAMMERED FROM AIR

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 29—Two German motor convoys totaling more than 800 vehicles loaded with soldiers were mauled Wednesday by U. S. Ninth air force fighter bombers, which caught them fleeing eastward from Giessen.

At least 314 buses, trucks and staff cars were listed as destroyed and 72 damaged as 250 planes dumped bombs on them.

A rocket-firing squadron of Thunderbolts, led by Lt. Homer Hayes of Warren, O., discovered the larger convoy.

SOVIET TROOPS SMASH WAY TO AUSTRIAN LINE

Pound Through Defenses Of Bratislava Gap; Fall Of Danzig Due Shortly

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 29 — The Red army, lancing through the shattered defenses of the Bratislava gap in the Danube valley, has reached places along the Austrian frontier, it was reported from Moscow today.

Tanks and armored cars of Marshal Feodor Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian army, smashing ahead from captured Csorña, hammered at the defenses of Pamhagen, 39 miles southeast of Vienna, St. Johann on the frontier to the northeast and Wieselburg, near the Danube 21 miles southeast of Bratislava, Moscow dispatches said.

"Whether the units which fought their way to the frontier plan to remain or whether these are scouting groups feeling out the strength of the much-heralded fortified zone is not known," A.P. Correspondent Eddy Gilmore said.

No Word Of Crossing

"There are no indications that any of these tanks and armored cars actually have crossed the fronter into Austria."

The German communique announced a withdrawal north of the Danube to the Nitra river and a 25-mile advance by the Russians from the broken Hron river line.

This push in Slovakia apparently placed the Russians close to the city of Titra, 40 miles east of Bratislava, capital of the puppet government of Slovakia, and possibly as close as 30 miles to the border of Moravia.

There was no word of the coordinated offensive of Marshal Ivan Konev from Silesia toward Vienna and Prague from the northeast, but the Russians are bombing Maehrisch Ostrau in the Moravian gap heavily.

Nazs Give Up Toehold

In the north, the German communique announced evacuation of Kahlholz Cape, their last toehold on the East Prussian mainland except north of Koenigsberg, and said they have withdrawn to the Frische Nehrung, a narrow sand-spit between the sea and the Frisches lagoon.

The Russians have reached the center of Danzig and the Germans are giving up in large numbers.

The Germans said the great city's port and harbor installations were destroyed. Moscow dispatches said most of the commanders have abandoned their troops, escaping by sea. Fall of the city seems likely to come abruptly.

A German plan to evacuate Gdynia was broken Wednesday when the Russians captured 9,000 Germans standing at the docks.

BOY WOUNDS FATHER AS PARENTS QUARREL

Victim's Thighs Pierced By Bullet From .22 Rifle

Ben Jameson, 1364 Etruria st., was in "fair" condition today at City hospital with bullet wounds in both thighs suffered shortly before midnight Wednesday when his 14-year-old son fired at him with a .22-caliber rifle during a family quarrel in the East End home, police reported.

Police said one bullet apparently penetrated the fleshy part of both thighs immediately above the knees.

Responding to a call at 11:50 p. m. Capt. Chester C. Smith and Patrolmen John Graham, John Russell and Robert Pyle reported they found Mr. Jameson had left his home after being shot. While Capt. Smith and Patrolman Pyle remained at the home, the two other officers scoured the neighborhood for the wounded man, removing him to the hospital after he was found on Pennsylvania ave. near a lunch room, police said.

Police said the son, Ben Jameson Jr., apparently fired at his father to stop a quarrel with his mother rather than with intent to wound him seriously.

Pending outcome of the investigation, the youth was not taken into custody because of illness. Capt. Chester C. Smith said he probably will be referred to Probation Officer Chris Pusey. The wounded man and his family make their home with his brother, George Jameson, police said.

BIG STRIKE VOTE BOLSTERS LEWIS

Miners Stand Behind Union Chief Better Than 8 To 1

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 29 — A thundering miners' vote to strike at his call has bolstered John L. Lewis' position in the deadlocked soft coal wage negotiations.

The present contract expires Saturday midnight, but the better than 8-to-1 margin in favor of a strike does not necessarily mean Mr. Lewis will call one then.

Complete returns from the 90 areas polled by the national labor relations board Wednesday showed 208,718 "yes" votes and 25,156 "noes."

This was the question:

"Do you wish to permit an interruption of war production in wartime as a result of this dispute?"

Completion of the vote, biggest ever undertaken by the NLRB, cleared the way for Mr. Lewis to reply to Secretary of Interior Ickes' request that the present contract be extended to May 1.

Efforts to reach a new agreement before the present agreement expires Saturday night seem destined to fail.

Mr. Lewis can withhold a formal strike call pending new efforts to win his 18 wage and working benefits.

Or the government could seize and operate struck mines to avert the loss of coal to the war production program.

CLEVELAND, March 29 — The men who dig Ohio's coal joined with fellow soft coal miners throughout the nation to give, by an overwhelming majority, John L. Lewis authority to call a strike if he deems it necessary.

The national labor relations board's regional office reported United Mine Workers in 29 Ohio counties voted 7,722 to 1,449, a ratio of more than 5-to-1 in favor of permitting "an interruption of war production in war-time as a result of this dispute".

Ross Act Lag Forces Plants To Break Law To Keep On Schedule

By E. E. EASTERLY
Associated Press Staff Writer

COLUMBUS, March 29—A controversy in the Ohio legislature today made it necessary for Ohio war plants to violate the law to continue their production schedules.

Special legislation authorizing them to work women and minors 18 or older more than 45 hours a week will expire Saturday midnight.

A bill to extend the legislation two years is deadlocked and the legislature will be unable to untangle the stalemate before Monday night.

The measure has been passed by the house and senate, but the house refused to approve an emergency clause making the bill effective immediately. Ninety days must elapse before the extender legislation can become effective.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche is st. hopeful the house will make the extender effective immediately

House Democrats, members of the governor's party, defied his wishes when they opposed the emergency clause. The clause had been inserted by the senate before it passed the measure, 27 to 2, Wednesday.

The senate deleted a house amendment prohibiting girls of 16 and 17 from working after 10 p. m. The present law allows them to work until 11.

An hour after the senate acted, the house refused to concur in the amendments. The vote was 83 yes to 36 no, with 91 favorable votes needed. Thirty-two Democrats and four Republicans voted against concurrence.

The Democrats were irate over the senate's deletion of the 10 p. m. amendment. Rep. Lody Huml (D) of Cleveland asserted the bill in its present form "contributes to juvenile delinquency".

Hopes that the controversy could be settled before the legislature adjourned for the week-end disappeared when Speaker Jackson E. Betts of the house reported that

POINTS ON PORK, MARGARINE RISE

Some Canned Items Jump In Value And Others Drop

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 29 — The OPA Wednesday night increased pork ration point values to spread small supplies more evenly, shortly after senate investigators tossed back to OPA the packer's phase of the meat shortage problem.

The two-point boost will become effective Sunday. Price Administrator Chester Bowles said an estimated 5 percent less pork will be available for rationing in April than in March and the point increases are necessary to aid in getting a better distribution.

Increases also were ordered for lard, shortening, margarine, salad and cooking oil. Point values for all cuts of beef, lamb, veal, butter and most cheese will remain unchanged.

Bacon Up Two Points

Point values also will go up Sunday for canned peas and asparagus, while the ration cost of sweet cherries, plums, prunes and tomato juice will be slashed.

Center pork chops are upped from 10 to 12 points a pound; end chops, from six to seven points; ham slices, from 10 to 12; loin roasts, from seven to eight.

Lard and shortening are advanced from four to six points a pound; margarine goes up from five to eight points.

Bacon goes up two points a pound. Salad and cooking oils also advance two points.

Sausages are increased by one point a pound, while sausage products and tinned or glassed meats advanced by two points.

Peas were given a new value of 30 points and asparagus 20 points in No. 2 cans. Both items are being boosted 10 points because supplies have been moving too rapidly, OPA said.

Movement of the three fruit products and tomato juice has been behind schedule, This makes

Missing Palestine Man Dead; 5 Are Reported As Wounded

An East Palestine man who was missing has been declared killed in action, while families of five district servicemen were told they were wounded.

There were three wounded from Salineville, and one each from East Liverpool and Newell.

Cpl. Shultz Killed

Special To The Review.

EAST PALESTINE, March 29—Mr. and Mrs. Emery Shultz received a telegram Wednesday advising them their son, Cpl. David R. Shultz, 19, previously reported missing in action, had been killed in France Oct. 6.

Attached to Company F, 180th infantry division, Cpl. Shultz entered the service in June, 1943. He was sent to North Africa and took part in the Anzio beachhead landings, later moving into southern France with the Seventh army.

He is believed to have been killed in the fighting for Belfort gap, the last location from which he sent word home.

He was born in East Palestine April 1, 1925, and enlisted while still in high school. Beside his parents, he leaves a brother, Leonard Shultz, of Ellwood City, Pa.

FIRE AND BLASTS RAZE ZANESVILLE OIL PLANT

By The Associated Press.

ZANESVILLE, March 29—Fire, followed by a series of explosions, destroyed the Pure Oil Co. storage plant, containing 100,000 gallons of gasoline and kerosene, on West Main st. early today. The fire and explosions damaged surrounding buildings, including a grocery and restaurant.

Firemen reported the fire started shortly after a gasoline-laden oil transport truck arrived at the plant from Newark. They were unable to determine whether the first started from a backfire or spark from the truck or from some other cause.

The storage tanks contained 60,000 gallons of gasoline and 30,000 gallons of kerosene.

Firemen do not expect to extinguish the blaze until late in the day.

Duisburg Captured; First, Third Armies Roll Ahead 20 Miles

All Of Frankfurt Except Northern Outskirts Occupied; Security Blackout Hides Extent Of Drives Along North, But Momentous Victory Shapes Up

By The Associated Press.

Field Marshal Montgomery's British-American armored teams roared through a wide break in German lines north of the Ruhr today and were reported in a field dispatch to be menacing Muenster, Osnabrueck and Hannover, the last 142 miles from Berlin.

Duisburg in the Ruhr ran up the white flag.

All of Frankfurt-on-the-Main except the northern outskirts was captured by the U. S. Third army, whose advance troops moved eastward to within 214 miles of Berlin.

Hamborn, Weisbaden, Hanau, Aschaffenburg and the northern half of Mannheim fell to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's armies fighting up to 145 miles deep in Germany.

The full extent of the advances in Westphalia is hidden by a portentous security blackout, but A.P. Correspondent Ned Nordness said Muenster, Osnabrueck and Hannover are threatened by the sweeping gains outflanking the Ruhr to the north.

Several defendable rivers were crossed easily. Hannover is 112 miles from last publishable British positions on the approaches to Muenster, capital of Westphalia.

Momentous Victory Appears In Making

The nearest First army approach to Berlin was at Amoeneburg, 85 miles beyond the Rhine and 255 from Russian siege lines in the east. The First and Third armies scored advances of 20 miles or more overnight, capturing the important Lahn river traffic center of Marburg, without opposition.

American and British armor raced 20 miles across the Westphalian plains to the approaches of Muenster in exploiting a break-through so thoroughly that Field Marshal Montgomery imposed strict security silence "because of the rapidity of present operations". This suggests a momentous victory is being fashioned.

American Ninth army troops crashed through the Ruhr port of Duisburg, a city of 431,000, which the German army had abandoned. The aged and very young of the volkssturm, left behind as defenders, quit outright and the city hung out the white flag.

One of the First army's tank columns captured Holzhausen, 11 miles west of conquered Marburg. This force is driving north from central Germany, perhaps toward a junction with the British in the Muenster area in a maneuver which might trap the entire Ruhr and its myriad defense forces.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges is 152 miles west of Leipzig, Germany's fifth city, and 255 from Russian lines. His troops and those of the Third army formed three more link-ups west of falling Frankfurt-on-the-Main. The armies, both commanded by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, also joined hands at Kamberg and Idstein, southeast of Limburg.

German lines everywhere are disintegrating swiftly. The cloaks of silence which Gen. Bradley and Marshal Montgomery imposed are hiding the full extent of triumphs

'Ike' To Give Out Word

WASHINGTON, March 29 — Secretary of War Stimson indicated today that Gen. Eisenhower will give out the first news on the cessation of hostilities in Europe.

CAPTIVES SAVE LIVES BY HUMAN ALPHABET

Part Of Group Killed Before Own Planes See PW

By The Associated Press.

WITH THE FIRST ARMY, March 29—Quick-thinking American and British captives being herded from a German prison of war camp at Limburg saved themselves from a deadly attack by United States planes through a human alphabet maneuver reminiscent of between-halves formations by football cheering sections.

With Ninth armored division tanks roaring toward the cathedral city, the routed Germans tried to cram some 2,000 of the Allied prisoners into box cars for a rush to the east. American fighter-bombers swooped in to bomb and strafe the train.

The Nazi guards fled. The prisoners broke open the doors, spilled into the fields nearby and, as the American planes dived for the kill, formed lines spelling out the letters PW, for prisoners of war.

The pilots veered away, but not before 14 men had been killed and 27 wounded.

When the Ninth division moved up, it discovered the Germans were packing even seriously-wounded prisoners into boxcars and evacuating them from hospitals in the path of the First army.

'SUCCESS NEAR,' CHURCHILL SAYS

Stimson Reports Nazi Army On Rhine Now 'Beaten'

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 29 — Prime Minister Churchill asserted today the "hour of success" is near.

His prediction came in a letter indorsing a liberal candidate for commons in a special election to fill a vacancy.

"The endurance of the British people and the steadfast devotion of the fighting services at last have brought us near the hour of success", he wrote.

"Let us now prepare to make sure for the sake of our country, our empire and civilization that we reap the due and just rewards of victory.

"That end best will be served by maintaining unity of effort and of purpose."

The letter was addressed to Ronald M. Munro, who is a candidate to represent the Scottish universities in parliament and has the support of the Churchill coalition government.

WASHINGTON, March 29—Secretary of War Stimson said today the situation on the western front "makes clear in no uncertain terms" the German army on the Rhine is "beaten".

He told a news conference it was possible the Nazis may find some other temporary line for the defense of the reich, but that "the enemy must be absolutely without hope of anything save unconditional surrender or piecemeal collapse".

Mr. Stimson added:

"If the Allied armies are forced to fight from village to village to the destruction of all Germany, the German people must know that their present leadership and they who tolerate it will bear the responsibility."

The secretary said the question of how the Rhine could be crossed "with so little difficulty" probably always will be a matter for military study.

One big factor, he said, was the fact that from D-day to March 23, last day before the big push across the Rhine, the Allies had taken 1,120,503 German prisoners. By now, he added, this number has mounted beyond 1,200,000.

They Got Potato Peeling Soup

290 Wounded, Emaciated Yanks Liberated

By LEWIS HAWKINS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HEPPENHEIM, Germany, March 27—(Delayed)—Eleven hundred emaciated prisoners, including 290 wounded Americans so badly treated by their Nazi captors they had lost an average of 35 pounds in weight, were freed from a German prison camp by the U. S. Seventh army infantry today.

Pathetically happy at their liberation, the men related how they had been subjected to filthy conditions and fed on a slow-starvation diet that made it virtually impossible for the wounded to recover and caused some to lose as much as 100 pounds in weight.

An American lieutenant who, with a major, did all the surgical work for the Americans, said the average daily diet was about 700 calories, in contrast to 3,500 to 4,000 for wounded men in American military hospitals.

He said protests to the German commandant had met with the reply that the Nazis just couldn't get any more food for them. The Germans ate potatoes and fed the prisoners a thin soup made from the peelings, the lieutenant added.

"It seems almost a miracle that we had only 10 deaths in two months," he said.

AN AMERICAN private munched almost ravenously on some K rations.

"The main part of our food was one loaf of bread a day for 10 men," he said. "For breakfast we had ersatz coffee, without sugar or milk. For dinner we had soup made of potato peelings. At night we had more thin soup, sometimes with a small piece of potato in it, but never any meat or vegetables."

The private said the men were so weak they had to spend most of their time in bed.

Each man got a small piece of poor soap once a month. Bed clothing was changed once a month and there was one clean towel for each two men every two weeks.

The Americans, he said, received no Red Cross packages.

The camp was fairly well supplied with surgical instruments and drugs, including sulfa, but there was no plasma or blood for transfusions.

SLASHING CLAIMS LIFE OF MANSFIELD INMATE

By The Associated Press.

MANSFIELD, March 29—Edward Williams, 23, died in a hospital at the Ohio State reformatory here Wednesday afternoon, less than an hour after he was stabbed in the throat by a fellow inmate while they were marching to the prison dining room.

Supt. Arthur L. Glattke identified Williams' assailant as Odis Marshall, 22, but added that Marshall denied the attack.

Williams' throat was slashed with a pocket knife, the superintendent said.

Motive for the attack could not be established, Supt. Glattke, added, because Williams was in no condition to be questioned before his death.

Williams was sentenced from Franklin county Oct. 2, 1940, for burglary and Marshall from Butler county Aug. 5, 1943, on a criminal attack charge.

SHORTAGE HAS GROWN INTO LOT OF BOLOGNA

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 29—There is no shortage of bologna—the kind you eat. Supplies of frankfurters also are adequate.

Otherwise, the labor department says housewives found it increasingly hard to find meat in independent stores in 56 major cities in the month mid-February to mid-March.

The survey indicated larger supplies of butter, sugar and shortening, with supplies of canned vegetables plentiful, but canned fruits scarce.

Pork was especially hard to find, with 78 percent of the stores having no loins and ham, as compared with 62 percent a month earlier. About 70 percent had no bacon or veal. About 50 percent had some beef, but this was less than in mid-February.

PLANTER OF IWO FLAG KILLED DURING BATTLE

By The Associated Press.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., March 29—Platoon Sgt. Ernest I. Thomas Jr., the marine who planted the United States flag on Mt. Suribachi during the invasion of Iwo Jima, was killed in action on the island several days later, the marine corps has notified his mother.

Sgt. Thomas, 20, took over his platoon after the lieutenant in charge was wounded and led the charge of his unit up the volcanic Mt. Suribachi on the third day of the Iwo Jima invasion.

HOSPITAL ATTENDANTS FACE ASSAULT CHARGE

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, March 29—D. R. Sharpe, foreman of a Cuyahoga county grand jury, informed Common Pleas Judge Samuel Silbert Wednesday indictments will be returned charging three former Cleveland State hospital attendants with assault on patients with intent to wound.

The grand jury, after investigating hospital conditions, said in its report:

"The evidence reveals a condition which is sub-human and dangerous. Patients die shortly after brutal beatings. There are few autopsies and fewer inquests. Records are obscure or non-existent.

"The grand jury warns the state of Ohio that it may witness a more tragic disaster than the East Ohio Gas tank fire (fatal to 130) at State hospital. Dangerous overcrowding, fire-trap rooms, seriously-overloaded electrical equipment and other blemishes may end in a major catastrophe."

PASSOVER OBSERVED AT AACHEN SERVICES

By The Associated Press.

ADVANCED HEADQUARTERS, United States, Ninth Air Force, March 29—For the first time since 1938, there was a public observance of the Passover at Aachen Wednesday.

Jewish American soldiers and a handful of German Jews assembled in the partially-destroyed barn for the service.

German civilians, long indoctrinated with anti-Semitism, watched impassively as the Jews gathered.

The service was conducted by Capt. Robert S. Marcus of New York, Ninth tactical air force chaplain.

Easter Eggs Of 1938 Still Intact; Spurious 'Cash' Put On Display

A PLEASANT Heights girl is sure she will have colored Easter eggs Sunday — she has kept the same hand-painted set intact for seven years!

Now 10, Ann Lynn Laracombe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larcombe of Spring Grove ave., was given the set of eggs for Easter in 1938 by her aunt, Mrs. C. D. Mackall of West Fifth st.

Depicting characters from the fairy tale, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," the eggs were treasured so much that they were kept intact and have been saved carefully for seven years.

The eggs were decorated by Miss Melania Wallace, formerly of East Liverpool and a friend of Mrs. Mackall.

Mrs. Mackall said the eggs are unbroken and the colors are just as bright as the day they were applied.

There's just one draw-back — something you might expect.

The egg called "Dopey" rattles!

Attracting much attention in the lobby of the Columbiana County Treasurer Edith Dawson's office in the courthouse at Lisbon is a display of counterfeit bills—contrasted with genuine currency — in the most-used denominations of $1, $5, $10 and $20 as part of the U. S. treasury's campaign to educate the public on detecting "phony" cash.

Vincent C. Judge, deputy treasurer, obtained the framed exhibition of bills from the secret service. The display was made up by the treasury department in an effort to educate the public on the theme of, "Know Your Money."

Mr. Judge, who has had the hobby of coin collecting for several years, has been using the treasury display in connection with his coin collection, giving many talks on the subject of "Money" at various Grange meetings, etc.

Mr. Judge said that it is not difficult to spot a counterfeit bill if money passed to a person is examined closely.

The campaign already has had results, as one of the workers in the treasurer's office detected a counterfeit $10 passed over the counter.

2 COMMUNITIES MEET RED CROSS WAR FUND

East Palestine, Midland Go Over Top In Campaigns

Two more East Liverpool district communities reported success today in their Red Cross War Fund campaigns, with East Palestine and Midland "over the top."

East Palestine 'Over' In War Fund Campaign

EAST PALESTINE, March 29 — Red Cross headquarters here announced today the local War Fund goal of $5,500 has been met.

Robert Henry, Columbiana county chairman and head of the local drive, said exact figures will be compiled in a few days.

Midland Exceeds Goal For Red Cross

Special To The Review.

MIDLAND, March 29 — The $17,000 goal in the annual Red Cross War Fund drive has been exceeded, E. W. Hopper, chairman, announced today.

The drive ends this week and late donations are expected to boost the total to approximately $17,500, Mr. Hopper said.

Within the boundaries of the United States are located half of the world's known coal deposits.

Congregation Plan Services For Remainder Of Holy Week

Several district congregations have planned services tonight and for Good Friday for the remainder of Holy week in preparation for the Easter worship.

Meditations, communion and other holy events are planned, with the major services scheduled for tomorrow. Business places in Wellsville will be closed between 2 and 3 p. m. tomorrow to permit attendance at Good Friday services.

Some of the programs include:

2 Services Planned For Emmanuel Church

Holy week services will be held tonight and Friday night at 7:45 in the Emmanuel Presbyterian church.

The service tonight will take the form of Bible reading with Rev. Andrew I. Keener, interim pastor, in charge. His sermon subject will be "The Making of a Christian Yesterday and Today".

Seven women members of the congregation will take part in the Good Friday service. Rev. Keener will speak on "Seven Meditations from the Seven Last Words." The rite of Holy Communion will be celebrated and a meeting of the session will be held at the conclusion of the service to examine new members.

Organ numbers of Miss Eleanor Jane Bennett, will include Lamaigre's "Stabat Mater Dolorosa" and "Prayer" (Loret). The church choir will sing Tschiakowsky's "Legende", and "There is a Green Hill Far Away" (Somerset).

St. Stephen's Church Plans 3-Hour Meditation

A three-hour service of meditation and devotion will be conducted tomorrow from 12 to 3 p. m. in St. Stephen's Episcopal church in observance of Good Friday.

The service will be led by Rev. R. K. Caulk, the rector, assisted by the pastors of neighboring churches. "The Seven Last Words from the Cross" will be the general subject.

Participating will be: First word, Rev. Clyde H. Canfield, D.D., First United Presbyterian church; second word, Rev. Williaim S. Longsworth, Calvary Methodist church; third and fourth words, Rev. Paul F. Obenauf, St. John's Lutheran church; fifth and sixth words, Rev. Clark W. Cooper, D.D., first Methodist church, and seventh word, Rev. Arthur E French Jr., First Presbyterian church.

St. John's Lutheran To Give Dramatic Service

A dramatic service entitled "The Three Crosses" will be given tomorrow night at 7:30 in St. John's Lutheran church in observance of Good Friday.

The service will be directed by Rev. Paul F. Obenauf, the pastor, assisted by Miss Pauline Veigel, who will sing solo parts. Traditional hymns will be sung by the congregation.

The rite of Holy Communion will be celebrated by members of the church at a service tonight at 7:30.

Mayor Peters Proclaims Wellsville's Observances

Mayor Clarence H. Peters of Wellsville today called on the community to pause Friday for a period of reflection on Good Friday's significance in a world at war.

In a proclamation asking all business places to close tomorrow between 2 and 3 p. m. for a joint worship of all denominations at the First Methodist church, starting at 2, Mayor Peters commented:

"In the present period of world conflict, which has brought sorrow to many Wellsville homes, we can find fresh courage to carry on in the eternal story of Christ's gift of his own life to mankind.

"As mayor of Wellsville, I earnestly ask all merchants and the community at large to participate in the special service arranged by our Ministerial Association."

Central Methodists Will Give Communion

A candlelight communion service when members of the congregation may participate as families or individuals in the sacraments of the Lord's Supper will be held Friday from 4 to 5 and at 7 p. m. by the Wellsville Central Methodist church.

This type of Communion service was instituted last year and was so well received that it is being repeated. Rev. David Skeen, pastor, will be assisted by his wife, Mrs. Nina Burson Skeen, in conducting the period of commemoration.

First Baptists Plan Pre-Easter Communion

A pre-Easter Communion service will be held tonight at 7:30 in the First Baptist church. The rite will be conducted by Rev. Paul Tidball of Canonsburg.

Music for tonight's service will feature a solo "The Holy City", by Miss Marjorie Franklin. The choir will sing "With Him Today" (Landon). Organ numbers of Mrs. Neil Canavan will include "Hour of Devotion" (Rathbun), and Jerusalem, the Golden" (Spark).

Lee's A.M.E. Chapel To Conduct 2 Services

Pre-Easter services will be held tonight and Friday night at 7:30 in the Lee's African Methodist Episcopal chapel in Wellsville.

Holy Communion will be celebrated Friday night. The services have been arranged by Rev. D. E. Johnson, the pastor.

Young People To Give Oakland Church Service

The Young People's society will sponsor the Good Friday service tomorrow at 7:45 p. m. in the Oakland Free Methodist church.

Rev. William Jones, pastor of the Hookstown Free Methodist church, will be the guest speaker. Rev. G. Stanley Pugh is the pastor.

Boyce Methodists To Conduct Communion

The Boyce Methodist church will hold Good Friday Communion service at 8 p. m. tomorrow at the church.

Rev. Philip Hinerman, the pastor, will be in charge.

it possible, the agency explained, to cut values of No. 2½ cans of sweet cherries to 40 points, down 20, and plums and prunes to 20 points, down 10.

A 50 percent cut in tomato juice values reduces No. 2 cans to 10 points, while 46-ounce containers go to 20 points.

The senate agriculture committee, investigating the civilian meat shortage, a short time earlier checked back to OPA the packers' demands for "a small, reasonable profit".

After hearing "Big Four" Packer Thomas E. Wilson reiterate testimony of other meat producers that OPA price ceilings are driving the industry into bankruptcy or government control, the senate agriculture committee dropped that phase of their inquiry.

Chairman Thomas (D) of Oklahoma told the committee attorneys for the packers and the OPA will try to work out an agreement.

Says That OPA Erred

The committee said OPA erred in placing low ceilings on better grades of beef in relation to poor grades. It added that government officials "acted in good faith when they asked farmers to cut hog production, but they made a bad guess".

The committee will resume its inquiry into the asserted "price squeeze" next month if no agreement is reached meanwhile, he said.

The day produced these other highlights in the meat situation:

1.—Mr. Wilson, board chairman of Wilson & Co., testified what is needed to increase the meat flow to civilian tables is price "encouragement" all the way back to the rancher. The only way to stop black markets, he said, is to drop meat price controls—"and I don't advocate that".

2. — Secretary of Agriculture Wickard said any increase of ceiling prices would not increase meat production.

3.—Leo T. Crowley, foreign economic administrator, said effect of lend-lease on food supplies for United States armed forces and civilians has been "greatly overstated".

4.—A special seven-member committee created by the house to look into food shortages expects to start its activities today. Chairman Anderson (D) of New Mexico said he intends to inquire into black markets.

5—The American Farm Bureau Federation's livestock committee contended pork and beef are scarce because "Washington officials planned it this way".

6.—The British house of commons heard a protest that Englishmen could not be expected to "wear the belts any tighter" than Americans.

Mr. Wilson told the senate agriculture committee OPA price controls must be eased or the government will have to take over the entire packing industry.

"We can't buy livestock at controlled prices and sell at controlled prices without losing money," Mr. Wilson testified.

"Just put us on a basis where we can make a small, reasonable profit," Mr. Wilson said, adding he would leave details up to OPA.

Under questioning from Sen. Bushfield (R) of South Dakota, Mr. Wilson said he was not recommending removal of ceiling prices on live cattle. What is needed, the packer said, is "encouragement" all the way back to the rancher.

Secretary Wickard's contention meat production would not be increased by ceiling price rises was made in a statement to the committee.

The shortage, he said, is due to demands of the military and other shipments abroad, as well as the necessity of meeting domestic needs at the same time.

The secretary said an increase in ceilings actually might have the immediate effect of cutting supplies, since growers might retain their animals for better prices.

board, said OCR will insist on a serviceable, good-wearing product for outdoor use.

Enormous demands from the army quartermaster corps for military footwear in April, May and June will bring a serious curtailment in civilian shoe production. Although WPB officials predict improvement in the last half of the year, there are indications quartermaster officers expect the heavy drain to continue.

Decision Reached, Conclusion Awaited

AMERICAN fighting men, Britons, Canadians, Russians and their allies still are being killed in Europe. Germans are being killed. Yet, the decision in the European war has been reached. The knockout blow has been struck. The victim is out on his feet.

That is the import of Gen. Eisenhower's statement on Tuesday that the German armies have been broken. It is the import of the rapid advances being made on the western front. The decisive battles have been fought; the final battle, as is common in great wars, will be an anticlimax.

In a large measure, this fact has been sensed here at home. No matter what signalizes the final event—a formal surrender by Germany, or a formal announcement of Germany's defeat—the fact that Germany is defeated now is part of the common knowledge. There has been no real suspense about the outcome since the landings in Normandy. All that has happened since, including the break-through at Ardennes late last year, could be rationalized either as good or bad fortune incidental to the main issue, which was whether Germany really possessed enough strength to hold the continent. That point was settled last June.

This has been a grim war of slogging determination and sacrifice for the victors, with almost no intervals of glorious exhilaration. There will be some resentful of the way circumstances are conspiring to rob us of even the small comfort of a victory celebration. But the truth is, there is little to celebrate, except relief that the slaughter in Europe will be ended. The war in the Pacific, meanwhile, seems destined to continue for a long time. It will not be surprising if that fact, still in the background of our thinking, emerges as more important on the day fighting stops in Europe than any impulse to celebrate.

Britain's Welsh Energizer

PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL'S eulogy of David Lloyd George testifies to more than friendship and personal respect. Britain's great leader in World War II learned the secret of his precarious trade from the fiery little Welshman who brought Britons safely through World War I.

Without Lloyd George in those perilous years, the British cause likely would have been lost by default. Politically, the nation was without the poise and balance to withstand Germany's deadly threat to its survival. Britons were victims of their internecine quarrels and muddled leaders. Of all the figures in high position, only one seemed to possess the vision, energy and courage to do what obviously had to be done.

Lloyd George took hold. He brought victory—brought it despite persistent efforts to undercut his position. He was ruthless against all enemies, outside and inside Britain. There were times when he apparently had no friends at all; none, that is, except the little people of Britain on whose confidence his political prestige was built. And whenever his enemies became too obstreperous, he called their bluff with a vote of confidence.

He made mistakes, of course, just as Winston Churchill is making mistakes a quarter of a century later. But he saved Britain from its monumental mistakes—from the devious thinkers, expedient politicians and the muddlers-through. He made the best peace he could see in the ruins of the war, and his great work was finished. His place in history was secure when he stepped out of office. The remaining years of his life, up to his quiet death last Monday night, were serene. He saw war come again, he saw his prototype in British politics rise to the occasion, and he saw another victory at hand. Did he also see peace? Perhaps not. At the age of 82, peace is likely to seem a personal, not an international condition—a thing of the spirit which comes only with the end of all striving. Britain's Welsh energizer had not made his mark by seeking peace, but by initiating action.

Instantaneous Conversion

THROUGH the stories being filed for newspaper readers by war correspondents in Europe runs a recurrent theme of the "conversion" of Germans from Hitlerism. It appears that there must not be a bonafide Nazi left in any of the territory occupied by the Allies in the west; all were waiting for a chance to do dirt to Adolf and his gangsters, by their own admission.

This instantaneous conversion does not convince the correspondents and certainly it does not convince those who read their stories. It is a phenomenon once described by Rabelais in one of the most quoted passages of all literature—"The Devil was sick—the Devil a monk would be; the Devil was well—the Devil a monk was he." When the war ends, there will not be a Nazis left on earth, if we are foolish enough to take all suspicious characters at their own word.

It was not until almost a century after Cortes had introduced the cacao bean into Spain that an Italian learned the secret of making chocolate.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Lest We Forget

THE American marine at Iwo Jima established an unerasable fact that Americans can die, too, if need be. We do not, like Japanese and other East Asiatics, believe that to die for a country is the only way to serve it.

We are not careless with the lives of our sailors, soldiers and marines. For instance, as much as in our hearts we know that many, perhaps even our own, will not return, we contribute as no people ever did to such organization as the Red Cross, to bring to our own children the gentle help and friendship of a civilian organization that represents the whole people of the country.

We, Americans, believe that life should be saved at any cost. We do not think of our boys as expendable.

Yet, if need be, they pit themselves against the impossible and the unattainable. And they win. Iwo Jima is a monument to that fact.

The so-called degenerate democracy, as the totalitarians put it, the soft gum-chewers, the panty-waists who liked to jitterbug when the he men of the totalitarians were drilling and saluting, walked up a beach into a volcano, fought as no one ever did before and pushed a larger body of Japanese into the sea.

Let no man question the bravery of the Japanese at Iwo Jima. They fought for their emperor true and bravely. But our marines were better men. They were free men. They fought for God and flag and the right of every man to human liberty. They won.

THOSE who died at Iwo Jima and those who, while alive, will be crippled forever, ought not to forgotten. They were among the very first Americans to set foot on authentic Japanese soil.

They knew when they went in, that it was the toughest assignment. Every man was in a suicide brigade. Every man was giving his life. The marines have a historic reputation for bravery, but seldom have they been called on to do anything like Iwo Jima. Seldom has any army been called on to sweep into death without even a chance—and to win in spite of that.

And when this war is over names of places will be put on monuments and those of another generation will see Iwo Jima and they will pass wondering. What is Iwo Jima?

It is a symbol of the superiority of free men over slave mentalities. It is an evidence that democracy does not weaken the fiber of man; it gives reign to free will and therefore to the initiative and capacity of each individual.

It is proof that men of all races, religions, creeds, political ideas, economic ideas can fight the enemy rather than each other, uniting on what they hold in common; in a word, that the mind and spirit of man need not be controlled and regimented by government or anybody to produce fighting capacity and brave patriotism.

Iwo Jima proves that had Japan remained true to the spirit of Emperor Meiji, to the friendship of Commodore Perry and Townsend Harris, who opened that country to the enlightenment of American civilization, her sons and ours would not today be buried in a volcanic waste.

SO let us build a memorial to Iwo Jima—a memorial that will mark its symbolism. The marines are of the navy, and this was a naval battle.

Therefore, let us borrow the three-way altar of the navy, a single altar that serves the three religions of western civilization, Judaism, Catholicism and Protestantism.

This altar does not lessen in any aspect the differences among these three variants of truth—in fact, it emphasizes the idea that within unity there are independences and differences, for is not God's house of many mansions?

Let us build a memorial, a permanent memorial, in New York or Washington or in some other place of great population, around this navy altar.

And let us inscribe on the walls of stone the names of all who died at Iwo Jima. And then people will come to worshp at this glorious concept of freedom of mind and expression.

Dumbarton Dilemma

By SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON—One of the main bouts when the United Nations gather at San Francisco April 25 will be this:

The need to assure the small nations that they won't be at the mercy of the big powers, versus the fact that the big powers must be left free enough to take swift action if war threatens.

The difficulty lies in the fact that the more nations permitted to debate, the longer the debate—and the longer it will be before the world organization can "call out the fire department".

The debates will take place (according to the Dumbarton Oaks agreement) in an 11-member council which will be the inner sanctum of the world organization.

Every member nation can belong to the organization's assembly, but it doesn't have much actual power.

The council will decide when a nation is threatening the peace and what action should be taken to quell the trouble-maker.

It actually will have about the same duties that a combination police chief and police judge would have in your home town.

At this writing, 11 nations will sit on the council. Permanent seats will go to the United States, the United Kingdom, the U.S.S.R., France and China. That leaves six seats for the rest of the nations to scrap over.

Nailing one of those seats, will be their one chance to sit in where policy is written.

The scrap for those six rotating seats on the council (they're handed out for two-year terms) is expected to be as exciting as Jersey City on election night and with about the same amount of buttonholing and log-rolling.

There's already a widespread move to get more power for the small nations.

These nations have a natural fear that the big powers might gang up on them and vote some action that would benefit the big nations at the expense of the small.

The Netherlands stepped up first with a printed pamphlet of suggestions sent to the Yalta conference, in which she pointed out that "the smaller nations of Europe comprise about 150,000,000 and those of Latin America another 100,000,000—no inconsiderable numbers with a right to the pursuit of freedom from fear equal to that of great powers".

She pointed out that all the "Big Five" would need to put over big power politics would be the vote of one small nation—to get a majority vote on that council of 11 nations.

She wanted the charter that will be written at San Francisco to include this provision that the council can take action only when at least three small nations vote "yes".

At Yalta, the "Big Three" met her request part way. It now is proposed that council action be taken by a "majority" of seven, which means that where the "Big Five" are agreed at least two small nations must vote with them.

Reward List

By Truman Twill

OUR post-war revenge list finally got so long it flowed over into a second notebook, so we switched to a post-war reward list, instead.

After all, it isn't going to be practical to get even with all the nitwits who have hurt our feelings. It will be easier just to give our post-war business to the places that appreciated it.

The reward lists starts with the restaurant that was as short of help and ration points as any of the rest, but whose waitresses nevertheless managed to take an order within 10 minutes, managed to get it straight and managed to deliver it — the same day — and whose management made sure it was worth delivering.

It includes the hardware store with the clerk who realized that the next five years might prove to be more important than the next five minutes and volunteered the information that the tool we were looking at, while it looked all right, wasn't as good as the tool next to it, which didn't look fancy but would last 10 times as long.

It also includes the garage proprietor who could have stuck us for a lot of new parts, but did a repair job, instead, with one trifling replacement and also was honest enough to admit that the whole job hadn't taken more than 10 minutes and, therefore, the whole bill would be less than a dollar.

Also on the list are half a dozen stores whose clerks promised to call if certain needed articles became available — and who kept their promise, in contrast with the clerks of half a dozen other stores who didn't.

And the clothing salesman who explained that the pair of trousers we were thinking about buying to go with the coat that wasn't worn out at the elbows would be a cross to bear because they wouldn't hold a press, but that the pair we had given only a passing glance—and which sold for less money—were a real bargain.

And the butcher who managed to keep smiling when he had nothing to smile about and gave the impression he intended to be in business at the same old stand after Chester Bowles had gone back to his advertising business.

And the grocer, the druggist, the gas station manager, the refrigerator repair man, the plumber and the electrician who remained smart enough in a time of nationwide stupidity to do the best they could with what they had.

They looked ahead to the days when everybody will have everything again and the fellow who survives will have to do it with that little extra flourish that made America famous as the land where the customer, bless him, is entitled to an even break.

Part Of A Pattern

By Mark Sullivan

WASHINGTON—Refusal of the senate to confirm President Roosevelt's appointment of Aubrey Williams to be head of the rural electrification administration is not an isolated event. It fits into a pattern of things past and to come.

After President Roosevelt was reelected last fall, the first important appointments he sent to the senate included six officials in the state department.

One of the six, Archibald MacLeish, was a New Dealer. The others were regarded as conservatives. Because of this cleavage of thought within the group, the ensuing lineups in senate votes and actions were somewhat mixed. Yet beneath all was an underlying pattern.

Immediately following the appointments, violent opposition came from left-wing Democrats in the senate, backed up by the left-wing press and left-wing organizations. So thorough-going was their opposition that at one-stage of the fight they even impeded confirmation of the appointee who was a new dealer.

Throughout the controversy, in spite of its violence, there was at all times a prevailing expectation that the appointments would be confirmed, and this turned out to be correct.

The opposition by left-wingers was interpreted as a demonstration, meant for Mr. Roosevelt to take notice of.

IN the prevailing judgment in Washington, the demonstration by the left-wing Democrats was intended as a reminder to Mr. Roosevelt of the part that left-wing groups had played in his reelection; as a warning that he must not make appointments of such importance without consulting them or taking account of their shade of political thought, and as a warning, too, that the left-wingers must have a hand in post-war international policy, which these state department appointments would affect.

The opposition continued until one of the left-wing senate leaders had a conversation with Mr. Roosevelt. It was assumed that the conversation was satisfactory to the left-wing senators. In any event they ended their fight and the appointments to the state department were confirmed.

Following that incident, Mr. Roosevelt sent two important appointments to the senate—Henry A. Wallace to be secretary of commerce and Mr. Williams to be head of REA, both highly acceptable to the C.I.O. and the other left-wing groups within the Democratic party.

The appointments were regarded as being, on the part of Mr. Roosevelt, partly a placating response to the earlier demonstration of protest by left-wing senators, and partly a recognition of what the left-wing groups had done for him in his campaign for reelection.

This impression was sustained by a letter Mr. Roosevelt wrote, in which he said that the appointment of Mr. Wallace was a reward for "working for the success of the ticket".

These appointments dismayed some regular Democrats and angered others. In a key vote on the Wallace appointment. In Democrats voted against him, and these included most of the more powerful Democrats in the senate, chairmen of important senate committees.

Even of the 32 who voted in Mr. Wallace's favor, probably more than half did so reluctantly, in the interest of creating an appearance of party support for the President.

SIMILARLY, in the vote on Mr. Williams, 19 Democrats voted against him, and these included most of the powerful chairmen of important committees who had opposed the Wallace appointment.

Again, of the 31 Democrats who voted for Mr. Williams, many did so for reasons other than approval of the President's appointment of him.

To look on all this as merely a cleavage within the Democratic party would be both superficial and misleading. What we really have is a new ideology in American politics, symbolized by Mr. Wallace and Mr. Williams, and expressed in varying ways and degrees by groups who comprised the spearhead of Mr. Roosevelt's strength in the election last fall—the C.I.O. Political Action Committee, the American Labor party, the Liberal party, the Communist Political Association.

The direct strength of these groups in congress is small. Their principal leverage of power lies in the pressure they put on President Roosevelt or Mr. Roosevelt's willingness to defer to them.

So far as Mr. Roosevelt does defer to them, some Democrats in congress go along, not out of affection for these groups but in the interest of supporting the President as the head of the party.

Manpower Bill

By Paul Mallon

WASHINGTON—The manpower matter did not come out in final form from the congressional negotiators exactly as expected.

The labor draft was defeated and buried, true enough. Mr. Roosevelt's recommended course was lost. But in its place, a new program was devised which is popularly advertised as a "labor freeze."

The title is not exactly accurate. It would freeze all labor—except strikers, the ones whose labor is apt to matter most in war production.

They proudly and officially proclaimed that exemption in both houses of congress. They say strikers do not terminate their employment, at least not legally, and therefore are beyond freezing.

You would think, then, that the union leaders would be cheering. They are not. A. F. of L.'s Green calls it "a slave bill," and the C. I. O. is against it, as well as the Manfacturers' Association and the Chamber of Commerce, according to a house member who polled them all.

WHAT the bill actually proposes is to give War Mobilizer Byrnes authority to freeze men in certain areas (not defined) under penalty of jail for a year or $10,000 fine, and to do certain other things, but the bill itself neglects to say union strikers are exempt.

Hence Mr. Byrnes might not agree with the advocates of the program in congress and might try to use the legislation to freeze workers against strikes — in which case a court would have to decide, after the strike is over, no doubt.

But Mr. Byrnes can and probably will delegate the authority to Manpower Chief McNutt, who might have other ideas.

Thus the most important angle of the legislation still is undecided. if strikes are exempt, then the government could look pretty silly putting one man in jail for a year somewhere for quitting his job, and letting thousands of men strike beyond the penalties of the bill, restrained only by other government action (war labor board, plant seizure, etc).

In short the measure merely hands Mr. Byrnes a lot of strong-sounding but not very clear powers. It furthermore tells him to handle them for the following purpose:

(Section 2-A): "In order adequately to support the army and maintain the navy during the present war and to carry into effect the purposes of the declaration of war pledging all the resources of the nation to bring the conflict to a successful termination, every individual not in the armed forces shall have an obligation, when called upon, to serve the nation in an activity essential to the war effort."

BUT the bill does not do that. The powers do not fit that purpose. It does not propose to draft anyone or in any way rally new workers.

It does give Mr. Byrnes power to regulate hiring, rehiring, solicitation and recruitment of labor by employers. He also can put a ceiling on any plant, and therefore, put any plant out of business or put it on a small scale or large scale business. Yet he cannot enforce the obligation to serve on "every individual."

How this new program happened to spring up is a secret of the congressional conferees who have done little talking. Only two opposed it, Dewey Short, the Missouri Republican in the house, and Joseph O'Mahoney, the Wyoming Democratic senator, both of whom thought it un-democratic.

My information is that the guiding sponsor of it on the inside was Sen. Warren Austin, the Vermont Republican who favors much more — a labor draft. I think he got his main inspiration from the army.

The army has favored a youth draft for peace-time military training as well as a labor draft for war, and has the draft solution in mind for practically every problem—or as much draft as possible.

Congress overwhelmingly rejected the notion, so it put the draft ideal into this new bill. No doubt it expects the ideal to be implemented later.

This explains the confusion still existing in this latest program as to exactly what should be done. It was an effort to compromise two opposing ideals, and the result could not be otherwise.

Q:—Do ultraviolet rays affect the entire body, even though only part of the body is exposed?

A.: Yes. The rays cure and prevent rickets even when the entire body is not exposed to them. Many authorities believe that ultraviolet rays exert other beneficial effects, too, but that is a rather controversial question.

Q.: What is the approximate speed of the earth's revolution around the sun?

A.: About 18.5 miles per second.

Q.: Is sterling silver pure silver?

A.: Sterling silver is 92.5 percent silver and 7.5 percent copper. There is no pure silver used for tableware. Sterling silver contains more silver than silver coins, which are 90 silver and 10 copper.

Q.: What causes an electric light bulb to make a buzzing sound when burning out?

A.: This faint buzzing noise, which sometimes occurs when an incandescent lamp reaches the end of its life and burns out, comes from a tiny arc which expands and contracts with the frequency of the alternation of the current. On direct current it is silent. Whenever this buzzing noise is heard in a lamp it is a high-efficiency gas-filled lamp. The effect does not occur in vacuum lamps.

The Curfew And Sanctions

J. A. KRUG of the war manpower board plans to punish nightclubs, cafes, etc., that violate the midnight curfew by depriving them of employes; withholding gas, electricity, coal and other necessities.

As we see it, the "sanctions" will work out this way:

1.—The Club Razzledazz is reported to Mr. Byrnes for serving a drink after midnight. Mr. Byrnes flashes the news to Mr. Krug.

2.—Mr. Krug reserves a table for four federal investigators.

3.—The table is not a very good one, which puts the club on the spot at once.

4.—The agents order a dinner and one round of drinks. They ask for the check and find they cannot carry on from there without a federal appropriation of $250,000.

5.—They get the appropriation with a $50,000 emergency fund for use in case they want a sandwich and a glass of beer at closing time.

* * *

6.—They find the club violating the curfew, and are they glad the charges are true!

7.—They notify Mr. Krug, who sends them the following notice:

Dear Sir:

Agents from this department have found you violating midnight curfew. This is to notify you that if this is not discontinued at once, sanctions will be imposed, and that there will be a cover charge with them. These sanctions (which you will get without red points) will carry with them:

Suspension of gas, electricity and coal. This automatically will shut you off from hot water, hot music and hot performers.

Your master of ceremonies will be transferred to a shipyard. If he can be funny there, he's good.

Your chief comic will be put on submarine duty. There MUST be some way to suppress him.

Your headwaiter will be denied plush ropes.

Your waiters will be drafted into some essential work like bartending. (The bar then will be abolished.)

The government will apply ceilings on G-strings.

No nightclub songstress will be permitted to sing "Accentuate the Maximum" or "Don't Fence Me In" without a priority. Will that meet with public approval! Oh, man!

Very truly yours, etc.

* * *

The nightclub proprietor will be busy making up menus at the time he claims he can't read the warbling because it is in English.

Mr. Krug, noting continued violations, will impose sanctions as threatened.

Mayor LaGuardia on his Sunday radio program will impose sanctions on Mr. Krug, cutting him off not only from light, heat and power but from faith, hope and charity.

The matter will go to the Supreme Court, which will carry the issue to best-two-out-of-three-games against the Dodgers.

In case of rain the issue will go to Yalta.

The War Today:

Raids Speed Peace By Years

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Mr. Mackenzie

FIELD MARSHAL MONTGOMERY today clamped a news blackout on the Allied northern wing, making the erupting western front a mystery, though one which is pleasant, since we know it conceals details of our mounting victory over the Hitlerites. One thing a news blackout can't hide is that Hitler's military machine and civil administration are in a state of rapid dissolution. They're like a dyke which has been weakening until finally the ravaging waters tear a gap and the whole structure seems to dissolve in the flood.

Many kinds of Allied pressure are responsible for this collapse—the power of the land, the sea, the air, vast resources, moral fortitude and air-tight morale.

However, it's worthy of note that we now are seeing the cumulative effect of the Anglo-American bombing, which certainly has been a mighty factor in breaking the reich.

It's no exaggeration, I believe, to say that without this giant striking power, peace still would be years away instead of just around the corner.

THE development and application of Allied air strength has been one of the epics of the war. Only as far back as 1942 Anglo-American bombing was just beginning to show potentialities.

The world was aroused to possibilities by the first great 1,000-plane raid by the Royal Air Force on Cologne—a seven-day wonder. Later it developed this was staged by Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Harris for the purpose of surprising the Allied world into an understanding of what air power could do.

That first great demonstration was in effect a plea for more bomber strength. In the fall of 1942, when I spent much time with both Marshal Harris and Gen. Eaker, then head of U. S. bomber forces based in England, they were begging for more warplanes. Marshal Harris had used virtually everything that he could make fly to stage the Cologne raid. The Allies were weak in air strength then and really "got going" only two years ago.

Since the big-time bombing of Germany has been under way there has been a steady and devastating hammering of Hitler's war potential.

This naturally has increased as Allied air strength has grown until recently American and British forces have had as many as 8,000 warplanes over the reich on more than one occasion.

There have been the heavy bombers, which have torn at strategic centers, and the lighter tactical warplanes that have dealt with communications and the fighting fronts.

HITLER sneered at the early raids, but gradually they've worn him down. It's estimated that about 95 percent of his synthetic oil and gasoline plants have been destroyed, and without these two products modern mechanized war can't be waged.

His own vaunted air force has been rendered virtually impotent through lack of oil and gas, losses in combat, destruction of German planes on the ground and demolition of plane factories.

His great manufacturing centers have been reduced steadily. His communications in vital sectors have been shattered and his rolling stock has been depleted, making more and more difficult the task of moving not only military supplies, but civilian necessities. His centers for reserve supplies have been blasted.

The air base has blazed a great trail for us. And today the Allied air fleets are right up front helping clear the way for the racing ground forces.

2,400 TROOPS RETURN FROM EUROPEAN ZONE

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURER APPEARS

Tells Local Audience About Approach To Bible

Likening the Bible's lessons to "precious stones which must be sought," Harry C. Browne of New York City, member of the board of lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, mother church of the Christian Science denomination, addressed a local audience Tuesday night at the Mary Patterson Memorial.

"The Bible was meant to appeal to the heart," Mr. Browne told his audience. "If we are really anxious to have our faults corrected and want to be enlightened as to our immortal, spiritual status as the highest expression of God, the Bible must be our guide.

"But like precious stones, one must seek after the jewels of truth contained in the Scriptures, and we have the admonition of Christ Jesus: 'Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life.'"

The speaker explained that the Bible must be interpreted spiritually to catch its inspired meaning, and said the purpose of Christian Science is to convey that meaning.

"Let the beginner have no concern about his ability to understand these teachings, because God will explain them. Christian Science is not difficult to understand, but it does require an open mind free from prejudice."

Rites For Dallas Clapsadle Will Be Held Saturday

Dallas R. Clapsadle, 58, of Cook st., line foreman for the Ohio Power Co., died today at 8:30 a. m. in City hospital following a long illness.

Mr. Clapsadle was born in Lisbon, a son of F. H. and Leora Clapsadle. He resided in East Liverpool for the past 45 years, and was employed by the utility for 25 years, being a member of the company's Veterans' Association.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Bessie Cook Clapsadle; one daughter, Mrs. Robert Pyle at home; four sons, Paul E. Clapsadle of Salineville, Sgt. Robert Clapsadle in Italy, Pfc. Archie H. Clapsadle in Texas, and Harry J. Clapsadle of East Liverpool; two brothers, Walter M. Clapsadle and Howard F. Clapsadle of East Liverpool; one sister, Mrs. M. Smith Davis of Cleveland, and one grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Emmanuel Presbyterian church by Rev. Andrew L. Keener, interim pastor. Burial will be in Riverview cemetery.

Friends may call Friday night at the Dawson funeral home.

MISS ANNA M'KINNON, KIN OF PIONEERS, DIES

Services Planned Saturday For Native Taken At 90

Miss Anna McKinnon, a descendant of one of East Liverpool's pioneer families, died Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. in the home of Miss Mae Scragg, 728 Avondale st., following a several months' illness. She was 90.

Miss McKinnon was born in East Liverpool, a daughter of Riley McKinnon and Martha Arbuckle McKinnon. Her father lived on a farm which now is the North Side district. Miss McKinnon was employed as a telephone operator in Salem when a young woman. She made her home with Miss Scragg for the last 10 years.

Miss McKinnon leaves one brother, Frank A. McKinnon of Burbank, Calif., and a sister, Mrs. Harry W. Smith of Beaver Falls.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. in the Martin funeral home by Rev. Arthur E. French Jr., acting pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Riverview cemetery.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Robert M. Wright

Robert Morton Wright, 83, retired Pittsburgh mail carrier, died today at 2 a. m. in the Presbyterian hospital in Pittsburgh following a short illness.

Mr. Wright, who retired 18 years ago, had been making his home with a daughter, Mrs. Clifford Lyons, about one and one-half miles west of Hookstown. He was a member of the Emory Methodist church of Pittsburgh where he lived while working for the post-office department.

He leaves two other daughters, Mrs. Ford Reed of Hookstown, and Mrs. Edmund McCauley of Pittsburgh; four sons, Morton Wright of Georgetown, Sgt. Charles G. Wright in Hawaii, and William Wright and John Wright of Chester; two sisters, Mrs. Birdie Campbell of Chester, and Mrs. Lucy Doughty of East Liverpool, and 17 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Stewart funeral home in Hookstown and will be removed to the Lyons home Friday, where friends may call. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mr. Twaddle was born in Mooretown, Sept. 19, 1868, a son of William and Serena Twaddle, and spent his lifetime in Jefferson county.

Besides Mrs. Downard, he leaves a son, Norman Twaddle of near Salineville; three sisters, Mrs. Martha Schumaker of Akron, and Mrs. Della Wells and Mrs. Maggie Speicher of Bergholz; one brother John Twaddle of Bergholz, and six grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Robbins funeral home in Bergholz and will be returned Friday to the Downard home, for services Sunday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in the Mooretown Methodist cemetery.

Friends may call at the Downard home Friday night or Saturday.

OPA Closes One Gas Station; 2 Other Retailers Get Penalty

Charging overall shortages of 5,181 gallons of gasoline, the district OPA headquarters at Cleveland said today one East Liverpool service station has been suspended from business for the duration of rationing, effective Monday, and two other retailers and an intermediate distributor have been penalized.

An OPA hearing commissioner also suspended one supplier from serving two retailers for the duration, ordered another place to cease gasoline sales for two months, stayed a 15-day suspension against another and dismissed the last dealer with a warning.

Handed penalties in hearings at Youngstown before Frederic S. Glover Jr., regional OPA hearing commissioner, were:

Wilfred Rudy and Kenneth McGaffick, operators of the Stadium service or West End service, 832 West Eighth st., suspended for the duration of rationing on charges of a shortage of 2,100 gallons on Feb. 8 and of accepting 515 gallons from a distributor without surrendering ration coupons;

Homer Burris, operator of the Burris Service station, 1503 Pennsylvania ave., suspended for two months for a shortage of 957 gallons on Jan. 3:

Clyde Coplin, operator of a station at 432 West Eighth st., dismissed with a warning for an alleged shortage of 1,800 gallons on Feb. 8 and for accepting 528 gallons on Jan. 7 from a distributor without surrendering coupons:

Dale G. Bussard, operator of a station at 314 Market st., given a 15-day stayed suspension for an alleged shortage of 424 gallons Feb. 8.

Francis C. Johnson, operator of an Atlantic Refining Co. intermediate distribution agency at 432 West Eighth st., charged with delivering 528 gallons to Mr. Coplin on Jan. 7 and delivering 515 gallons to Mr. Rudy last August without receiving ration coupons in either case. He was suspended from making further deliveries to either station for the duration of gas rationing.

In his ruling, Mr. Glover termed Mr Johnson's alleged violations of a "flagrant and wilful character". Mr. Glover said he stayed the suspension against Mr. Bussard because the shortage at his station apparently rose as the result of inexperience, as Mr. Bussard had taken over the place in October.

Careless handling of coupons and acceptance of invalid coupons through inexperience apparently caused the shortage, the hearing commissioner said, warning Mr. Bussard to comply strictly with rationing regulations in the future.

In the case of Mr. Coplin, Mr. Glover said he apparently accepted the gasoline from Mr. Johnson without surrendering coupons "relying on representations that it would be permissible to do so until his application for registration had been approved by the ration board." He also was warned to comply with rationing restrictions in the future.

The hearings were conducted in the Mahoning county courthouse at Youngstown, with Atty. D. H. Loren, district gas enforcement officer, representing the government. A. R. Fiorette, district enforcement attorney, assisted in preparation of the cases. All the suspensions become effective Monday.

COURT FINES BOY, 16, IN TRAFFIC VIOLATION

A 16-year-old Pennsylvania ave. boy paid a fine of $25 and costs today after he pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Frank E. Grosshans on a charge of operating a car without a driver's license.

The youth was arrested Wednesday at 7:25 p. m. at Myrtle and Harvey aves. by Patrolman John Graham, who reported he stopped the driver for questioning when he noticed several young people hanging on the outside of the car.

The boy, a pottery worker, was lectured severely by Judge Grosshans and police ordered him to have the auto's defective brakes and lights repaired before it is returned to his home by a licensed driver.

$7 Afterthought

Motorist Arrested After Refusing Ticket

A MAN who refused to accept a traffic ticket when he was cited by Patrolman John Graham for crashing an East End red light changed his mind and posted $7 bond after he was placed under arrest and taken to City hall, police reported today.

The motorist was identified as R. H. Smith, 1736 Holliday st., who forfeited the bond today when he failed to appear before Municipal Judge Frank E. Grosshans.

He was taken into custody at 4:18 p. m. Wednesday on Elizabeth st. after crashing the red light at Myrtle and Harvey aves., police reported.

ROSS ACT

many of his members already had gone home.

This left employers of women in a position of operating under peace-time employment laws until Tuesday or Wednesday. These laws fix a maximum of 45 hours a week for factories and 48 for mercantile establishments.

The Ross act, which the legislation would extend, raises the maximum for non-war industries to 50 hours a week and allows war plants unlimited hours to meet government production requirements.

Senate Democrats tried to insert amendments, including one limiting women to 48 hours a week in all industries, but when they failed they went along with the bill. The two dissenting votes were cast by Sens. Frank Day (D) of Cleveland and Raymond E. Hildebrand (R) of Toledo.

Sen. Joseph T. Williamson (D) of East Liverpool refused to vote, even after Lt. Gov. George D. Nye read the rule requiring senators present to vote.

Sen. Williamson explained later to newspapermen that he opposed the bill but declined, "for various reasons of my own", to cast a "no" vote.

After the session, Sen. Maurice W. Lipscher of Youngstown, Democratic floor leader, issued this statement:

"It is unfortunate that a matter of face-saving should be permitted to put the entire legislature in a bad light, jeopardize the production of Ohio war plants and embroil the legislature, the governor, employers and labor in a prolonged controversy.

"It is unfortunate that the proposed amendments, which were offered, which would have been satisfactory to all parties concerned, were not accepted."

The senate completed enactment of the 1-cent-a-gallon liquid fuel tax and the house gave final approval to legislation enabling members of the armed forces to vote in special, primary and municipal elections.

Soldier Reported Shot

City hospital authorities said today Pvt. Lester Starkey, East Liverpool soldier, is in "good condition" with a gun wound. He was admitted Tuesday night. Police are investigating.

Confer On Manpower

WASHINGTON, March 29—President Roosevelt called two senate leaders to the White House today for a conference on manpower legislation. Summoned were Majority Leader Barkley and Chairman Thomas (D) of Utah of the senate military committee.

SYMPATHY PLEA AIMED AT ALLIES OVER NAZI RADIO

Commentator Asks Troops To Judge For Selves On Character Of People

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 29 — German broadcasts virtually admitted Wednesday that Hitler's cause was lost and, in an appeal to Allied front-line soldiers for sympathy, declared "the German people can be reproached for many things, but they would be as glad as you if the war were to come to an end soon".

"Every day it looks more and more as if final victory will be yours," said the commentator, who identified himself simply as "Hans".

"I just can imagine how pleased you are feeling now that you at last are in the country you have conquered and about whose inhabitants you have heard such dreadful things," he said.

"I can imagine what it feels like to hear day after day of the victories of one's comrades, but now is the time to ignore all you have been told about the German people and judge for yourself. Ask yourself if you have found the Germans self-satisfied, over-bearing, fanatical, heartless and brutal."

Another Nazi top-flight propagandist—George Schroeder, chief correspondent for the Transocean agency—acknowledged that even Heinrich Himmler's dreaded Gestapo is not enough now to make the German people want to fight on.

"Iron discipline," he said "certainly is not enough to make the people continue the battle. Faith and conviction also are needed."

Later German broadcasts switched to an optimistic note, and said "German resistance all along the western front is stiffening".

This viewpoint was not borne out by Allied front-line dispatches, which reported the Allied drives continuing.

WITH THE SEVENTH ARMY, March 29—Cpl. Joe Bytnar of Yorkville, O., member of a light tank crew in the sixth armored division, suffered slight powder burns but otherwise escaped injury after his tank was shot at by a heavier Sherman tank. It was discovered later that the Sherman, bearing American markings, was manned by a German crew.

Letter To The Editor

Editor, The Review:

MANY thanks for the publicity and space that you have given us during the recent Red Cross Fund campaign. It has helped to put it across.

I also am taking this means to thank all the other workers—more than 300 of them—who have given so generously of their time, effort, and money in order that the campaign might succeed. The men and women who are fighting and dying for us — who still bask in the comforts of our homes — will appreciate what has been done to raise our goal of $44,500 more than my words can express.

They will be grateful, not only to those who worked hard to raise this money, but of course to those who gave it. They will know that there are those back home in East Liverpool who care, that there are those who are interested in their comfort, their health, their problems, and, yes, their lives.

The campaign is drawing to a close. This is the last week and it appears now that we will end about $3,000 short of the goal. This easily can be made up if those people who haven't given will give, and if those who deep in their hearts realize that they haven't given in proportion to their incomes or in proportion to the returns received from the Red Cross by their loved ones, will dig down and send in or bring to campaign headquarters, East Fourth st., just a little each.

Thanks again on behalf of the Red Cross organization and our own men whom this money will help.

M. P. STEVENS
Campaign Chairman

446 STUDENTS GIVEN X-RAY EXAMINATION

Pictures To Be Diagnosed In 2 Weeks By Specialists

There were 446 X-ray pictures taken of sophomore and junior students in East Liverpool High school Wednesday in an anti-tuberculosis move sponsored by the Columbiana County Public Health league.

The pictures were taken by the National X-ray Surveys, Inc., of Orange, N. J., with equipment set up in the high school gymnasium. Students wishing free examination were required to furnish a consent card signed by their parent or guardian. Only a small percentage of those entitled to the examination declined it.

The pictures will be returned to the league headquarters in about two weeks and will be read by tuberculosis specialists and doctors to locate those young people in whom tuberculosis is beginning.

The X-ray examination here was part of a campaign to examine every junior and sophomore student in the county. Funds for the work were made available through the sale of Christmas health seals last December.

1,000 B-29 ATTACKS PROMISED FOR JAPAN

By The United Press.

WASHINGTON, March 29—Attacks by as many as 1,000 super-Fortresses at one time are in store for Japan before the end of summer, Gen. Henry H. Arnold hinted Wednesday.

Noting that 300-plane raids are being carried out against the enemy homeland, the army air forces chief told a news conference.

"The 20th air force has not yet grown up — it's just a young lad. But it will be fully grown before the end of summer. If the Japs are unhappy now, they soon will be two or three times as unhappy."

He also said that the full power of the army air forces will be turned against Japan after victory in Europe and indicated that most if not all, of the army's fliers will be kept in service until Japan is crushed.

"We are going to need all of our air force men to carry on and see that this war is finished as soon as possible," he said.

SHARP CUT IN TAXES URGED AT WAR'S END

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 29 — Sharp reductions in taxes, attuned to the end of the German and Japanese wars, have been proposed in a resolution introduced by Rep. Reed (R) of New York.

Rep. Reed, chairman of the house Republican tax study committee, called for these measures:

CUT OF the corporation excess profits tax from 95 to 60 percent immediately on collapse of Germany and elimination of the excess profits levy entirely when Japan folds.

HORIZONTAL CUT of 20 percent in individual income taxes, to become effective at the end of the Japanese war.

2 WALKOUTS END, THIRD CONTINUES IN OHIO DISPUTES

Workers Agree To Resume Posts At Companies In Cincinnati, Dayton

By The Associated Press.

Strikers have agreed to return to their jobs today at Cincinnati and Dayton plants, while a work stoppage at Hamilton entered its third day.

At Cincinnati, workers at the Allis Chalmers plant voted Wednesday to end their two-day strike pending clarification of a war labor board directive concerning contract negotiations. Approximately 1,400 persons walked out Tuesday.

Approximately 650 employes of the Kurz-Kash Co., Inc., in Dayton agreed Wednesday night to resume work today after an unauthorized week-long strike, A. W. Fisher, war production board representative, announced. The plant makes parts for B-29's.

Mr. Fisher said that the walkout began with a dispute over the hiring of two Negro workers. "All employes have agreed to go back to work," he said, "under the same conditions they left."

Between 500 and 600 workers stayed away from their jobs at the State Stove Co. plant in Hamilton, where company officials reported the strike is in protest against C.I.O. organizing activities..

Picket-line disorders at the plant caused the injury of two women Wednesday and the arrest of a third on a warrant charging assault and battery.

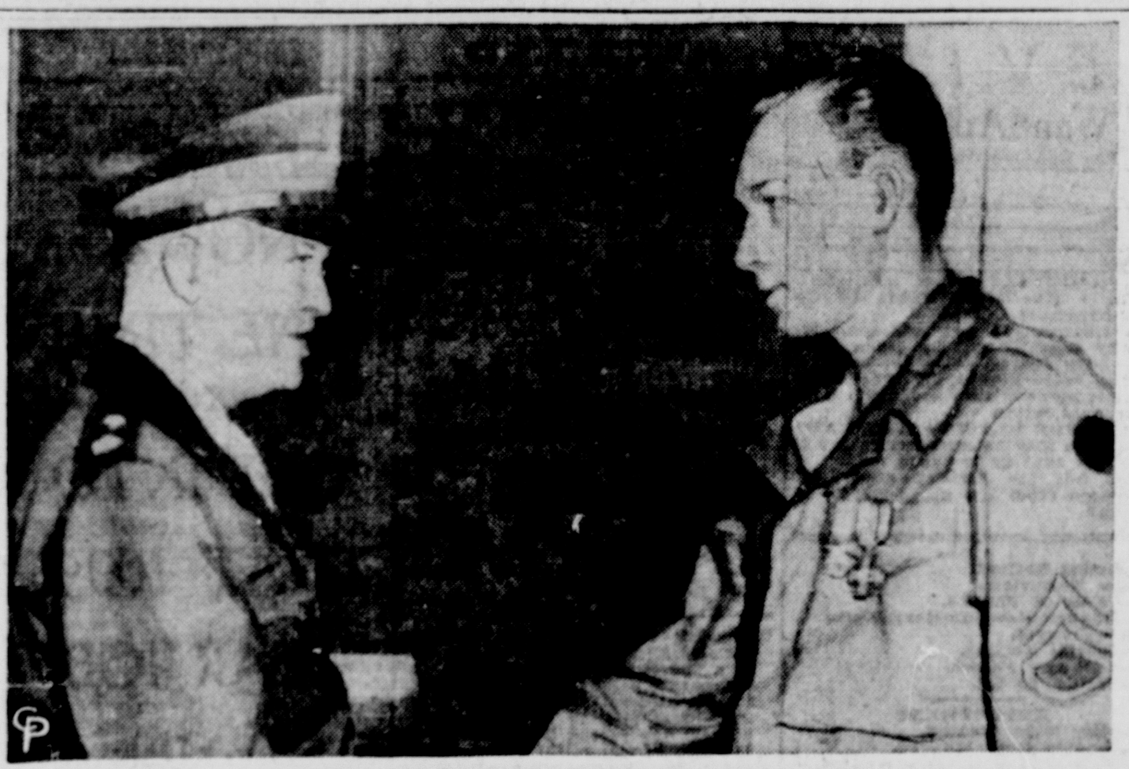
The injured, both treated at a hospital for forehead lacerations, were Mayme Landi, 57, and Mrs. Posey Menninger, 31.

Mrs. Menninger filed assault charges against a woman she identified as Mrs. Lissie Leedy, 36, a stove company employe.

The company holds a closed shop agreement with the International Molders' and Foundryworkers Union (A.F.L.).

Officials of the Pharis Tire & Rubber Co. of Newark were ordered to appear before the regional war labor board today "to show cause" why a WLB order of reinstatement of employes dismissed during a recent walkout was disregarded.

Approximately 1,000 employes were involved in the dispute over wage issues. The walkout began last Thursday and ended Monday.



'IKE' CONGRATULATES MEDAL OF HONOR WINNER. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, back from touring the Rhineland front, is shown with Staff Sgt. J. R. Spurrier, first to be awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor in the Ninth army, during ceremonies at "Ike's" headquarters. Sgt. Spurrier killed 25 Germans and captured 20 others, including a garrison commander, singlehanded.

EX-SAILOR MUST DIE FOR SLAYING IN 1942

By The Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, March 29—Frank Carter, 26-year-old Louisville (Ky.) former sailor, today faced in the electric chair the death he attempted by his own hand two days ago.

A jury convicted him Wednesday night of first degree murder for the killing of a suburban Norwood (O.) policeman and omitted recommendation of mercy.

Under the law, that made the death sentence mandatory. Tuesday Carter attempted to end his life by slashing his wrists.

After the jury returned its verdict, Carter pounded on the bars of his cell; tore the bandages from his wrists and shouted: "They'll never take me to the chair."

Conviction was for the death of Sgt. Anthony Overberg, shot and killed in July, 1942, during the attempted robbery of a Norwood drugstore.

The defense pleaded temporary insanity.

'DOUBLE-EDGED' BILLS INTRODUCED BY LEWIS

Rep. Earl R. Lewis (R) of St. Clairsville revealed today from Washington he is staging a "double-edged" attack for import protection.

He said he introduced a bill in congress withdrawing from the President the power to reduce custom rates, and another bill to require custom rates on imported merchandise to be based on the American valuation.

He said he plans to present shortly still other bills dealing with various phases of foreign trade. Because the ways and means committee of the house expects to take up the subject of renewal of the trade agreements act, he said he believes all bills having to do with that subject should be consinered by that committee.

HEARING SET APRIL 5 ON FARM WAGE RATES

Special To The Review.

LISBON, March 29—Floyd Lower, Columbiana county extension agent, said today a public hearing will be held Thursday, April 5, at 8 p. m., eastern standard time, in courtroom No. 2 in the courthouse to establish the prevailing wage rates for farm work in the county.

Mr. Lower said all farmers interested in the question are invited to attend and present evidence to the county farm wage board, which will report the prevailing wage rates to the state farm labor office.

The law provides that imported workers must not be paid less than the prevailing wages. The wages to be reported are not maximum or minimum rates, but rather the "going" wages now being paid for various kinds of farm work.

Another hearing will be held in mid-summer to establish wages for unit rates of harvesting of apples, potatoes, vegetables and other products. Monthly, daily and hourly wages will be considered at the hearing next Thursday, as well as rates for custom work and machine hire.

Personal Tax Deadline

LISBON, March 29 — Columbiana County Auditor I. J. Vorndran reminded today that Saturday is the deadline for paying personal taxes and that a penalty applies for payment after March 31.

Fruit Spray Broadcasts

LISBON, March 29 — The Columbiana county extension office advised farmers that the fruit spray service broadcasts began today over station WTAM. The broadcasts are given each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 6:32 a. m., eastern standard time. WLW broadcasts, which began last Friday, are given on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6:35 a. m., eastern standard time.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 In Memoriam

IN loving remembrance of my husband Frank Lewis who passed away 1 year ago.

No one knows how much we miss you, no one knows the bitter pain we have suffered since we lost you. Life has never been the same. In our hearts your memory lingers, sweetly, tender, fond and true. There is not a day, dear one, that we do not think of you. The world may change from year to year, and friends from day to day, but never will the one we loved from memory pass away.

Sadly missed by his wife and daughters.

3 Card of Thanks

WE wish to extend our appreciation and thanks for all the kindness and words of sympathy and the beautiful floral offerings received from our kind friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement in the loss of our wife and mother. Especially we thank the Rev. Mitchell, the Rev. Darulla and the Rev. Benedum.

Mr. Clarence Hulse and Family.

WE wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, use of cars, and beautiful floral offerings, received from our kind friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement in the loss of our mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Bourne. We especially thank Rev. R. K. Caulk, Crucible Steel Co. and Hall China Co.

Sons and Daughters

WE wish to extend our sincere thanks to our many friends who so kindly assisted us during the recent bereavement of our beloved wife and mother, Jane Sylvia Hill. Especially do we thank the Rev. John H. Longsworth for his words of comfort, and all those who sent floral offerings and donated cars.

Gratefully,
George Wm. Hill and Family

ROOSEVELT ASKS FOR PASSAGE OF MANPOWER BILL

Plea Comes As McNutt Sees 'Positive Betterment' In Employment Situation

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 29 — A renewed plea Wednesday by President Roosevelt for manpower control legislation coincided with a report by Manpower Commissioner McNutt of a "positive betterment" in the employment situation.

Mr. Roosevelt's appeal for favorable senate action on the manpower control bill, with jail and fine enforcement teeth, was made in a letter to Chairman Thomas (D) of Utah of the senate military committee.

The letter failed to quell a critical attack by the bill's opponents. The measure, a compromise reached by senate and house conferees, passed the house by a seven-vote margin.

Mr. McNutt's report said "an extra push" still is needed in getting more workers to leave non-essential industries for jobs in war production plants if production schedules for the six-month period of Feb. 15-Aug. 15 are to be met.

The manpower commissioner's conclusion of "positive betterment" was reached through reports that levels of munitions' plant employment achieved in December were maintained in January and February.

Chairman Thomas read in open session of the senate Mr. Roosevelt's letter, which said:

"I earnestly hope the senate will adopt the conference report on the manpower bill. . . . The manpower situation is still serious. In the days ahead of us there will be great temptation for workers to leave war plants. The failure to enact this legislation will make the successful conduct of the war even more difficult. . . ."

Sen. O'Mahoney (D) of Wyoming told a news conference the navy's action canceling orders for construction of 72 warships showed a lack of need for the legislation. The order means the laying off of "a large number of workers", he said.

BODY OF MISSING MAN DISCOVERED IN TRUNK

By The Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, March 29 — Police and coroner's officials pursued today the mystery of a missing garageman, whose body was found stuffed in a trunk in the garage late Wednesday.

The victim was identified as Daniel Raymond Nash, 35, missing since last Thanksgiving. So badly was his body decomposed that officials delayed an inspection to determine how he met his death.

A sister and his employer said they knew of no enemies he might have had. Though he once had attempted suicide by poison, they added, he had appeared in good spirits before he vanished.

His body was found crammed into a luggage carrier on a shelf in the garage in suburban Mt. Auburn.

WOMAN CLAIMS MILL ALLOWED W.I.U. TIME

Ex-Stewardess At Weirton Testifies In NLRB Case

Special To The Review.

PITTSBURGH, March 29—Mrs. Helen Brosky, a former Weirton Steel Co. employe, testified Wednesday before a federal circuit court master that, as stewardess of the Weirton Independent Union, Inc., she transacted union business on company time with no reduction in her pay check.

She was paid also for time off to attend a party given for W.I.U. stewardesses, the witness told Special Master Drayton Heard, and was given a day off to prepare for another affair for women officials of the W.I.U. now under attack by the national labor relations board as a "company union."

Mr. Heard is taking testimony for presentation to the third circuit court of appeals, Philadelphia, on NLRB charges that Weirton Steel is in contempt of court by disregarding a court order and recognizing the W.I.U.

As a W.I.U. stewardess in the tin mill at Weirton, Mrs. Brosky testified, she solicited members and collected dues on company time and attended semi-monthly meetings without a cut in her pay check. She worked for Weirton Steel from March, 1937, to Feb. 11, 1944.

Douglas Freshour, at the time chairman of the W.I.U. tin mill division, directed her union activities, Mrs. Brosky stated. Mr. Freshour also paid the bill for a day's entertainment for W.I.U. stewardesses, for which she was allowed time off, with pay, from her job in the assorting room of the tin mill, she said.

MIDLAND TO CONDUCT WAR CLOTHING DRIVE

Special To The Review.

MIDLAND, March 29—Plans are being completed for the United National Clothing collection campaign which will open here next week as part of the nationwide drive for used apparel to be sent to war-stricken people, Co-Chairmen Alex DellaValle and Leslie Roach announced today.

The chairmen said letters will be sent to every home next week explaining the kind and condition of clothing especially needed.

Clothing centers will be established at the four school buildings, in all churches and at the central police station.

Householders also may call any boy or girl scout who will take clothing to the collection centers.

Midland's quota is 30,000 pounds and every effort will be made to complete the drive successfully, the chairmen said. Clothing will be taken to the high school for packing and shipping.

A meeting of representatives of all civic organizations participating in scheduled next week when progress of the campaign will be checked.

JAPS GIRD MANCHURIA AGAINST RED INVASION

By The Associated Press.

CHUNGKING, March 29—A Chinese press report said today that 300,000 well-equipped Manchurian puppet troops have been moved to northern Manchuria to bolster Japanese defenses against the possibility of a Russian invasion.

The report said double-tracking of railroads in Korea and principal lines in Manchuria has been completed by the Japanese.

ARGENTINA RESTRICTS ACTIVITY OF AXIS AIDS

By The Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, March 29—Argentina, acting to implement her declaration of war on the Axis, has appointed an army colonel to supervise commercial and industrial activities of Axis nationals.

It was learned the Japanese ambassador has been asked to confine himself to his home under police vigilance.

WACs To Honor Hero

CINCINNATI, March 29—A platoon of WACs being recruited here will honor the name of an Ohio hero of the Solomons campaign, the WAC recruiting office here announced. The group will be called the Rodger Young platoon in honor of Pvt. Rodger Young of Clyde, near Fremont, O., posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. The WACs will be sent to Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., for training and then assigned to Fletcher General hospital at Cambridge, O.

MINIATURE 'FBI' SET UP BY WFA

Unit Will Fight Speculation, Profiteering And Fraud

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 29 — A miniature "FBI" has been established within the war food administration to help prevent speculation, profiteering and fraud in connection with WFA transactions and regulations affecting food and farm commodities.

Named the office of investigatory services by Administrator Marvin Jones, who ordered its creation, the new agency has the power to check on violations in all phases of WFA food production and distribution programs and to look into sales and storage of foods bought by WFA.

The investigatory office was set up after Rep. Taber (R) of New York and Keefe (R) of Wisconsin charged in congress that informational leaks from the Commodity Credit Corp. had enabled grain traders to make "millions and millions of dollars" in the grain markets.

The investigation agency is directed by J. M. Mehl, who for several years has administered the commodity exchange act — legislation designed to prevent unlawful speculation in the nation's commodity exchange markets. Mr. Mehl will continue to administer the exchange act.

"Our office is not to be a detective agency," Mr. Mehl said.

Rather, he explained, it will take over investigating and compliance functions previously performed by branches within each of the various agencies under the WFA.

OHIO FARM LEADERS, DRAFT AIDS TO MEET

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, March 29—Ohio's farm leaders and selective service officials will meet Monday to ponder the inroads of military induction on the ranks of farmhands.

State Agriculture Director John T. Hodson said the meeting was arranged "to see if something couldn't be done about the farm labor situation as regards the draft".

Attending will be Col. C. W. Goble, state selective service director; Murray D. Lincoln and Perry Green of the Ohio Farm Bureau; Joseph W. Fitchter of the Ohio State Grange; Elmer Kruse of the state agricultural adjustment administration; Larry Kauffman of the Wool Growers Association, and Guy Doudy, head of Ohio State university's farm labor recruiting office.

ESCAPES DURING FUNERAL

COLUMBUS, March 29 — John Dietch, 24, of Franklin county, serving a 1-to-15-year prison term in Ohio penetentiary for burglary, escaped from a guard Wednesday while attending the funeral of a relative of the prisoner.

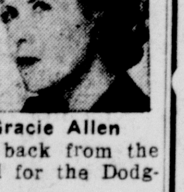
Husbands Certainly Get Coy In Presence Of A Scrubbing Mop

LOS ANGELES

WELL, girls, now is the time of year when spring starts breaking up our homes again.

Our better halves bury their noses in the sporting pages at breakfast, and slop coffee on the tablecloth as they get agitated over the Dodgers' chances. They don't realize that it's going to take longer for that tablecloth to come back from the laundry than it will for the Dodgers to come back.



Gracie Allen

It's funny what spring does to men. They look so healthy and vigorous swinging those golf clubs and tennis rackets. But just hand them a broom or a carpet sweeper, and that forgotten knee injury suddenly flares up.

They can carry a heavy golf bag as far as 10 miles, but they can't carry a wet sponge as far as a dirty window.

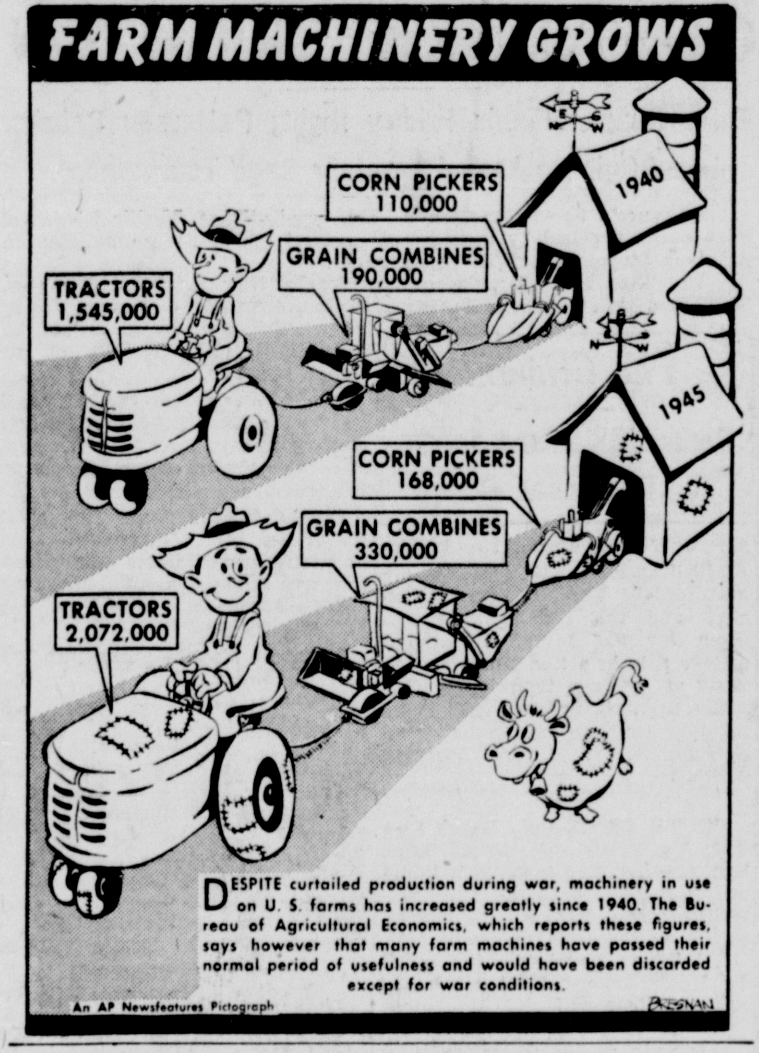
FARM MACHINERY GROWS



DESPITE curtailed production during war, machinery in use on U. S. farms has increased greatly since 1940. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics, which reports these figures, says however that many farm machines have passed their normal period of usefulness and would have been discarded except for war conditions.

JURORS WAITING CALL WEAVE FOR WOUNDED

By The United Press.

LOS ANGELES — Jury service once meant tedious hours of waiting for calls to service. In Los Angeles, times have changed.

A "jury Red Cross group", organized by municipal court bailiff J. R. Powers, has turned out more than 200 afghans for wounded servicemen while its members waited for calls.

The panels of non-functioning members sit in the spectator section of the courtroom and weave the 6-inch squares of woolens into completed afghans 4 by 6 feet in size.

Miss Melissa Lambert, chairman of the Red Cross county employes production group, praised the jury group's work and commended Mr. Powers for keeping up interest in the work since it began in December, 1943. She said the county unit has been able to give the Red Cross between 10 and 40 afghans a month.

DISTRICT TAVERN MEN TO HEAR OPA OFFICIAL

Sixty East Liverpool and Wellsville district tavern and restaurant owners were invited today to a meeting Monday at 2:30 p. m. in the council chamber of City hall to hear an explanation of OPA regulations that require posting by April 16 of ceiling prices on liquor, mixed drinks, beer and ale and wines.

Arranged by the local ration board's price panel, the meeting will be addressed by L. W. Hurlburt, head of service sections for the Cleveland district OPA headquarters.

Drink dispensers are required to file copies of their ceiling prices with the local board before they will be furnished posters on which to display ceilings, the price panel said.

Iodine stains may be removed with ammonia.

SEVERAL CLUBS FACED WITH HOLDOUT 'ACHES'

'Dixie' Walker, National League Batting King In 1944, Demands $8,500 Increase To Play For Brooklyn

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 29—With the major league season less than three weeks off, several club owners still are faced with holdout problems.

Probably the biggest name-holdout of all is Fred "Dixie" Walker of the Brooklyn Dodgers, National league batting king, who is demanding a reported $22,500, an increase of approximately $8,500 over what he was paid last year.

President Branch Rickey appeared as determined as Walker not to yield, with the result that Dixie may still be in his Birmingham, Ala., home when the season opens April 17.

Tribe Has Problems

Cleveland's Indians also are having their holdout headaches. Vice-President Roger Peckinpaugh told Mickey Rocco, dissatisfied first baseman, that the Indians had quoted him their final salary and that the next move was up to him. Another dissatisfied Tribesman is Outfielder Jeff Heath.

The New York Yankees have a stubborn holdout in Shortstop Frank Crosetti, but First Baseman Nick Etten and Pitcher Bill Zuber although unsigned, have arrived in camp.

Others who have not yet signed because of salary disagreements are Jim Tobin of no-hit fame and Stew Hofferth, Boston Braves; Al Gerheauser of the Philadelphia Phillies; Orval Grove and John Humphries, Chicago White Sox; Cliff Melton of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Vince Di Maggio, Pittsburgh Pirates.

Other training camp notes:

Browns Star Hurt

St. Louis Browns—First Baseman George McQuinn was struck on the knee by a ground ball and taken to a hospital for X-ray examination. Pitcher Jack Kramer, last of holdouts, agreed to terms.

Chicago White Sox—Bill Dietrich, who won 16 games for the White Sox last year, and Earl Caldwell, 19-game winner purchased from Milwaukee, reported to Manager Jimmy Dykes yesterday, to make 31 players in camp.

Chicago Cubs—Manager Charlie Grimm announced the sale of Japhet "Red" Lynn, who had a 5-4 record last year, to Los Angeles.

Cleveland Indians—Pitcher Red Embree joined squad, but Ambrose Palica said he expected an army call soon.

Pittsburgh Pirates—Described in best physical shape since they started training in north three years ago. Bucs beat Muncie semi-pro, 11-0. Outfielder Frank Colmaan reported.

St. Louis Cardinals—Arrival of Marty Marion means Recruit Al "Red" Schoendienst, who had been filling in at short stop, will be shifted to second or the outfield.

Yanks Play Red Sox

New York Yankees — Manager Joe McCarthy announced that Pitchers Walter Dubiel, Allen Gettel and Floyd Bevens will face Red Sox today.

New York Giants — Curtis Bay coast guard earned even split in two-game series winning second contest, 15-10. First Baseman Phil Weintraub made four hits including homer, but Sid Gordon, former Giant, spelled doom for New Yorkers.

Brooklyn Dodgers—Trade of Second Baseman Barney Koch to Montreal for Pitcher Vic Lombardi followed in heels of Whitlow Wyatt sale to Phillies. Team dropped 10-inning game to West Point, 5-4.

Boston Red Sox—Rex Cecil and Francis "Red" Barrett will shaare mound duty in the opener of nine-game series with Yankees.

Detroit Tigers—Manager Steve O'Neill indicated he would choose Hal Newhouser or Paul "Dizzy" Trout to hurl the season's opener against St. Louis.

Washington Senators—Two runs in ninth gave Senators 2-to-0 victory over Braves. Walter Chipple drove in one run and scored the other.

Philadelphia Phillies — Hap Morse, minor league veteran who managed Dallas for five years, signed as scout. Hamner brothers star at bat in intra-camp game, each getting three hits.

Gromek Effective For Tribe Again

By The Associated Press.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 29—Steve Gromek is taking up right where he left off last fall—at the head of the Cleveland Indians' twirling corps in effectiveness.

Manager Lou Boudreau the other day tossed his first line pitching staff—Gromek, Allie Reynolds, Al Smith, Jim Bagby and Paul Calvert—into an intra-squad game to see what they could do, and lo! The Hamtramck kid led all the rest.

The big righthander, his fast ball hopping, issued nary a hit nor a walk and fanned three in the three innings he toiled.

Last year, his first in the majors, Steve made a poor start but wound up the season with a 2.56 earned run average, the best of the Tribe's starting pitchers. Only "Grandpa" Joe Heving surpassed that mark.

McKechnie To Rely On Veteran Outfield

By The Associated Press.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 29—Indications today were that Bill McKechnie of the Cincinnati Reds will rely on his veteran outfield when opening day rolls around.

That outfield is made up of "Gee" Walker, Dain Clay, and Eric Tipton.

A couple of rookies named Al Libke and Kick Sipek have been drawing McKechnie praises as outfield prospects, but after yesterday's practice the manager let drop the word he sees no reason to change.

University of Indiana coaches began to worry about the overt glances the Reds' big-wigs were casting at Ted Klusewski, Hoosier freshman, rated as a good football prospect this coming fall.

Chester Quintet To Play In Sharon Tourney

1944-45 Purple Varsity To Represent Printing Co. In Contest Today

Chester High school's 1944-45 all-senior varsity cagers will square off against a Pittsburgh district quintet this afternoon in a first round tussle of the annual Sharon amateur basketball tournament at Sharon, Pt.

The Purple and Gold cagers, winners of 17 of 20 games during the season, will be sponsored by the Chester Printing Co. and will enter the tourney as the "Chester Printers".

Babe Devon will be acting manager and coach.

The Printers drew Brentwood as their first foe and will clash with the Pennsylvanians this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The same lineup that represented Chester High on the hardwood during the past season will start. Bob Miller and Bill McHenry will be at the forwards, Wilbur Staley at center and Wayne Harpold and Donza Graham at guards. Frank Snowden and Ralph Huffman, both of Chester High, will round out the squad.

BARONS TRIM BISONS; WIN FINALS PLAYOFF

By The Associated Press.

It will be the Cleveland Barons vs. the Hershey Bears in the American Hockey league playoff finals which will get under way Saturday night at Cleveland.

The Buffalo Bisons, holders of the Calder cup for two straight years, were eliminated last night on their home ice when the Barons ended their semi-finals series with a 6-to-4 victory.

To Resume Sports

WOOSTER, O., March 29—Wooster college will resume intercollegiate competition in golf, baseball, tennis and track this spring after a lay-off of one year, Athletic Director L. C. Boles announced today. Teams will be composed of civilian students and navy V-5 trainees.

WON'T MARRY UNTIL AFTER WAR. Pretty Dorothy Nortier sits at the piano in her home in Oakland, Calif., with Gunder Haegg, Swedish runner, whom, she said, she would not marry until after the war because she cannot obtain a passport now to return to Sweden with him as his wife.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, March 29—The solution for the annoying custom adopted by basketball coaches of sending in substitutes every few seconds to stop the clock near the end of a close game may be to stop the clock, anyway, on every dead ball. H. V. Porter, rules committee secretary, adds that the period could be shortened to compensate for the wasted time. . . . Optimism note: Supplementary entries for the 1945 Preakness close April 16.

Pop pops off.

Postcard from Hugh Fullerton Sr., says: "The Browns have their one-armed outfielder; Griff and MacPhail are fighting over a one-legged pitcher and most of the baseball magnates seem to want a commissioner without a backbone."

One-minute sports page.

Branch Rickey announces George Sisler is "even more promising as a baseball executive than he was as a player after I signed him out of the University of Michigan." But George will find it's quite a trick to hit .420 in the front office. . . . The mid-western rumor factory says the Bears' Ray Nolting may become assistant to coach Clem Crowe at Iowa. . . . Dr. Herbert L. Spencer, new president of Bucknell university, drew cheers when he told some old grads: "No Institution of which I have been president has ever lost a football game." Then they realized the Doc's only prior job as president was at the Pennsylvania college for women.

Little Brooklyn.

When the press box atop the Newport News, Va., ball park was destroyed in last October's hurricane, the park owners told some war time carpenters to get going. The boys did themselves proud. The only trouble was they built it facing the great open spaces and with the boarded-up back toward the playing field. Is it necessary to point out that Newport News is a Dodger farm?

PHILLIES BUY WYATT, FORMER DODGER STAR

By The Associated Press.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 29—The Philadelphia Phillies have entered No. 8 in their 1945 whiskers and peach fuzz docket.

General Manager Herb Pennock announced the purchase yesterday of 37-year-old Whitlow Wyatt, who teamed with Kirby Higbe in 1941 to pitch the Brooklyn Dodgers to the National league pennant.

Purchase terms were not disclosed, but estimates ranged from $10,000 to $25,000.

Wyatt joins two other one-time greats, Jimmy Foxx and Gus Mancuso, as well as holdover veteran moundsmen Bill Lee, Vernon Kennedy and Dick "Kewpie" Barrett.

On the other side of the ledger are 17-year-olds Granville Hammer and Ralph Caballero, plus youthful Garvin Hammer, Bitsy Mott and Fred Daniels.

Wyatt won 22 games in 1941 and was the only Dodger to win a World Series decision over the New York Yankees.

City League Meet Called

To lay temporary plans for the 1945 City Baseball league season, loop officials and managers will meet Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the City hall. In the absence of Manager Guy Digman of the Riverview Florists, Don Delaney, second baseman and pitcher, will act as manager.

5 COLUMBUS FIGHTERS WIN AMATEUR CROWNS

COLUMBUS, March 29 — Five Columbus fighters won places on the eight-man team that will represent Ohio in the National Amateur boxing championships in Boston April 2-3. Championship bouts were staged last night.

The summaries:

135-pound class: James Wiley, Cincinnati, outpointed Harry St. John, Cincinnati.

175-pound class: Calvin Perry Columbus, decisioned Charley Hodge, Columbus.

160-pound class: Marvin Wilkinson, Cincinnati, won by default from George Keeth, Springfield.

Horse Racing Figure Dies

CINCINNATI, March 29 — Desire Felix "Des" Dressen, one of the best known horse racing men in the country, died Tuesday. Dressen retired five years ago after years as mutuel manager of tracks including the New Orleans fair gorunds; Arlington Downs, Tanforan and the Detroit fairgrounds.

Midland Men Seek Sponsors For Loops

MIDLAND, March 29—Efforts to stimulate interest in the formation of baseball leagues for youths up to 18 years were made here this week when a group, headed by Alex DellaValle, high school physical director, met in the high school.

Steps to secure sponsorship and funds to provide uniforms, baseballs, bats and other equipment for about four leagues, including two from Midland and two from surrounding territory, were taken.

Meeting with Mr. DellaValle were Rev. Fr. Paul Leger, John Reider, George Petrosky, Lawrence Andres and William Bierer.

The group will meet next week to hear reports on the success of the sponsorship campaign.

BERGENER FIVE EASILY OUSTS NEW BRIGHTON

Enter Quarter-Finals Friday Night; Patterson Sparks Local Quint In Annual Amateur Cage Tournament

Bergener's Service station cagers, a quintet of former Liverpool High stars, brushed by their opening round foe in the annual, Sharon Amateur tournament Wednesday night.

The "Gas House" gang romped over a New Brighton, Pa., five, 36-19, and will square off against a quarter-finals opponent Friday night. Friday's rival will not be determined until results of tonight's contests.

The ex-Potters built up a 23-to-6 lead in the first half last night and then coasted to their easy triumph. The Pennsylvanians never were in the game.

Bill Patterson was the chief scorer in the Liverpool victory, bagging three fielders and three-for-three at the charity stripe. Dick Horton caged six markers and Jay Springer meshed five.

All eight players broke into the scoring column.

Edwards paced New Brighton with nine points.

The Climax!

Depaul, Oklahoma Tangle For Basketball Crown

NEW YORK, March 29—Basketball reaches its season's climax tonight when DePaul of Chicago and the Oklahoma Aggies clash for the mythical national college title in a Red Cross benefit game at Madison Square Garden.

The preliminary game will bring together the two tournament runners-up, N. Y. U. and Bowling Green.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 29—The University of Notre Dame took another step towards building up its football coaching staff yesterday when Kenneth L. Stilley, tackle on the Irish teams of 1933, '34, '35, was appointed line coach by Hugh Devore, head coach and athletic director.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 29—General Clyde Littlefield, who has tutored probably more athletes than any other college coach in the nation, will be the honor man at the Texas relays April 7—the event he created.

In 25 years at the University of Texas Littlefield has coached more than 5,000 boys. Not only has he been track coach all that time but he has taught football for the same period. Also, for a number of years he coached freshman basketball and he has had charge of cross-country for 11 years.

WASHINGTON, March 29 — Bob Coleman thinks his Boston Braves have a chance for the first division in the National league on added speed and defensive ability to back up a small but efficient pitching staff.

"No matter whether it's Joe Mack from Columbus or Vince Shupe from Hartford, a .346 slugger, we're sure to be improved at first," Coleman pointed out. "Frank Drews showed me he could play second base and Dick Culler at short and Tommy Nelson at third should give us more class. Culler, who hit .308 for Milwaukee, was late reporting, but I still have Whitey Wietelmann."

LOS ANGELES, March 29 — Up from the high school coaching ranks today came 40-year-old Bert La Brucherie to assume the job of football boss at the University of California at Los Angeles.

UCLA's board of control elected him last night by unanimous vote as successor to Babe Horrell, who resigned March 1. La Brucherie was at Los Angeles high school 16 years.

Handball Tourney Set

CLEVELAND, March 29 — The state YMCA handball tournament will be held April 7 and 8 at the Central "Y." Competition will be held in singles and doubles but there will be no team championships decided.

Man O' War's An Old Man—He's 28 Today

By KYLE VANCE
AP Newsfeatures

LEXINGTON, Ky.—Man o' War didn't look his 28 years as he cantered spryly about the big square paddock.

"He still thinks he's a boy," mused Will Halbut, "Big Red's" Negro groom for 15 years. But measured in human years the retired plutocrat of Samuel D. Riddle's Faraway farm pastures is an old man.

Over in another paddock were some other thoroughbreds, some fillies, and Red just kept on running around as Halbut walked toward him with a bridle. It was time for lunch at the barn.

"He don't want to leave the girls," the groom said.

But Halbut didn't have to chase him. Man o' War sidled over finally and let his caretaker lead him back to the barn.

Still Running

It was the end of the big champion's daily four hours of romping and exercising. Considering his years, "Red" does a lot of running when he is turned out. "Too much sometimes," said Halbut. "We have to stop him."

Man o' War was foaled March 29, 1917, not so far from the farm where he is now spending his last years in complete retirement. He was retired from racing 25 years ago after winning 20 of his 21 starts. He was retired from the stud three years ago after siring 357 sons and daughters, including such champion performers as War Admiral and Clyde Van Dusen, Kentucky Derby Winners; Crusader, American Flag and War Relic.

MAN O' WAR
Won 20 of 21 races

The red stallion's stable still is a favorite spot for sightseers around the Blue Grass. Before the war he had about 50,000 visitors a year, a fair crowd on Derby Day at Churchill Downs.

"About all of 'em that come out now want to know when Red's gonna die," Halbut said grinning. "They ask me like I ought to know. I just tell 'em, 'you tell me when you're gonna die and I'll tell you when Red's gonna die.'"

Man o' War sire, Fair Play, passed away at 28. Merrick another thoroughbred, lived to be 38. Big Red's teeth are in good condition, which means a lot in a horse's life span, and he behaves like a horse much younger than his 28 years.

"He may live to be 40," says Halbut, "or something may go wrong before that. You can see he's all right now. He's not lazy and he's not cross like most things get when they get old."

When visitors come out to see Man 'o War, Halbut does the talking.

"You're looking at the greatest hoss of them all," he says. "Yessir, this is Man o' War. Stands 16 and one-half hands high, weighs 1,375 pounds, 300 pounds more than his racing weight. He was foaled March 29, 1917. He won nine out of ten races when he was two years old and all 11 races when he was three years old.

"He's a Kentucky hoss but he never run on a Kentucky track. He won the Preakness and the Belmont but he never run in the Kentucky Derby like most people think he did. He won $249,465 when stakes were small.

"There have been lots of great hosses but there's been just one Man o' War. He was a great racer and a great sire. Yes sir, this is Big Red."

50,000,000 MILL BEHIND NAZI LINE

Bombed-Out Refugees Have Intensified Confusion

By The Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, March 29—More than 50,000,000 bombed-out or refugee Germans are milling around behind the German lines, impeding the defense and intensifying the confusion of defeat inside the reich, it was reported today by sources intimately acquainted with the country's internal condition.

On the basis of information from neutral and enemy sources, they gave this up-to-the- minute picture of what is happening inside Germany:

Millions of German workers are at loose ends, unemployed because their factories have been bombed or captured.

There is such chaos that the authorities have found no way to utilize these people in their last stand and are herding them around like cattle.

Jews are moved from internment camps to make room for war prisoners, then war prisoners are moved to make room for refugees.

The newspaper Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung has referred to a "fluid" labor situation and appealed to unemployed workers to report for war service.

The Germans know they have lost the war, yet they continue to allow themselves to be driven on by men of desperation instead of revolting.

They are living only for today, dependent on the Nazis for food and shelter and with the Gestapo always behind them.

SABOTAGE PLOT SEEN IN B-29 ENGINE PLANT

By The Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, March 29 — A spokesman for the Wright Aeronautical Corp. plant, engaged in manufacture of engines for B-29 super-Fortresses, has verified what the Times Star described as "government investigation of an alleged sabotage plot" at the huge factory.

Nature of the plot was not divulged "although," the paper added, "it is said to involve engine parts."

Agents of the federal bureau of investigation declined comment.

The Times Star said evidence "already gathered in the case has been turned over to the U. S. district attorney."

Memories Of World War I—

Newell Man Had Guarded Ludendorff Span

By ROBERT POPP

CAPTURE of the Ludendorff bridge spanning the Rhine at Remagen stirred every American recently, and to Eli Cox of Jefferson st., Newell, it brought memories racing back from the last war, for Mr. Cox was one of the doughboys who stood guard over the span for months in the token occupation that followed Germany's capitulation in 1918.

Published pictures from the front showed a railway-highway span with the big stone abutments that characterizes most major German bridges, but to Mr. Cox scenes from the bridge and the surrounding territory were like those of an acquaintance seen again after a 26-year absence.

Mr. Cox served as a private with a small unit of infantrymen placed on detached service from their units to walk a 24-hour guard over the big bridge, controlling rail and vehicular traffic by day and guarding against sabotage at night when travel over the Rhine was halted.

On Guard Seven Months

Quartered in the Kaiserhof hotel in Remagen, Mr. Cox was on duty at the bridge seven months before he was relieved in July, 1919, to return to the States for discharge. He served with Company E of the Fourth division's 47th infantry regiment.

Six guards were on duty at all times, Mr. Cox recalls, including two men at either end of the bridge, one interpreter in one of the stone towers and a sergeant of the guard.

Some of the men cut their initials in the tower's stones, he recalls. Planks between the rails permitted vehicular traffic, just as when the bridge was captured intact earlier this month by the First army, providing an easy crossing of the swift river to establish a bridgehead for a thrust at inner Germany.

Remagen townspeople told the American troops the bridge was built by Russian prisoners of war early in World War I before the Czar's army surrendered and touched off the Russian revolution. A spiral stairway led down to the river from one of the stone abutments, Mr. Cox remembers.

People Accepted Fate

The people in Remagen, a small town of about 4,000, were docile under occupation, he recalls. Across the river on the east bank of the Rhine was another small town, Erpel, he said.

The nearby country is extremely hilly and forested, Mr. Cox recalls. His photograph was snapped at the western end of the bridge by a Swiss photographer, but he can locate only one of the 10 copies he mailed to friends and relatives at home.

The military governor of Remagen in the last war was a sergeant who later was named lieutenant and now is postmaster of Emporium, Pa., Mr. Cox remembers, although he cannot recall the former officer's name.

Recalls Episode

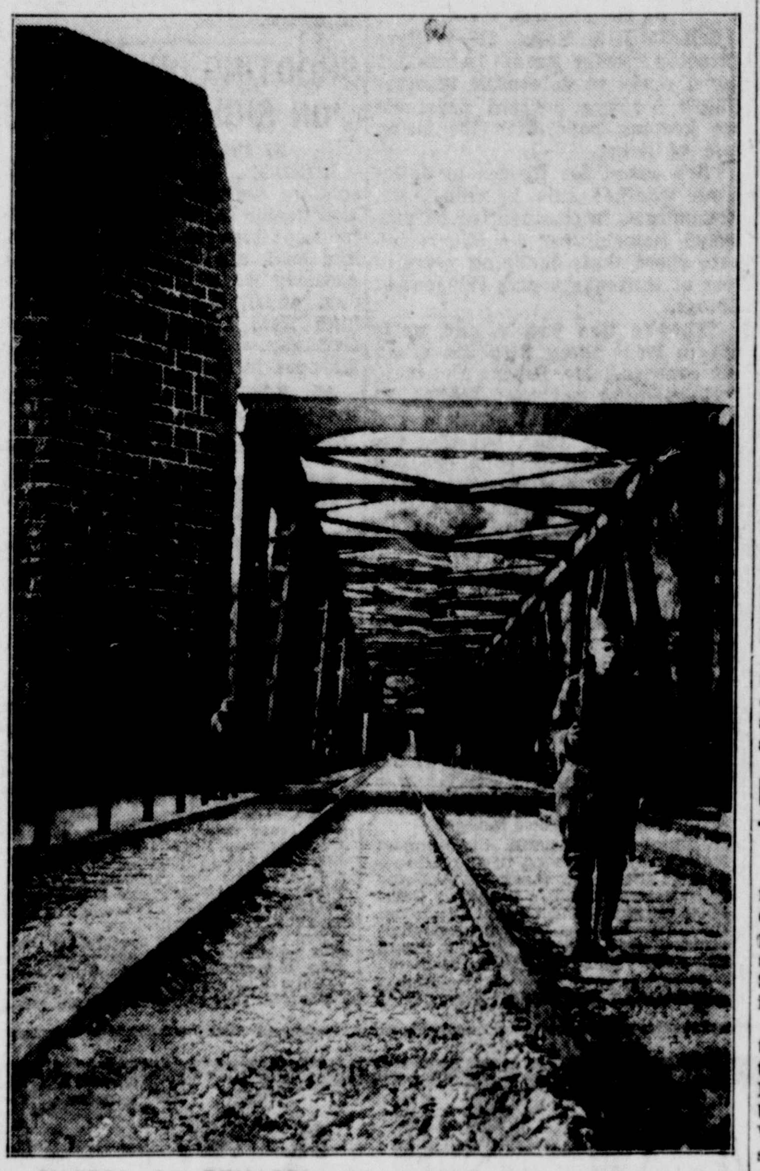
Mr. Cox believes he is the soldier mentioned in a recent Army Hour broadcast by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker in describing experiences in the front lines after he was shot down.

Capt. Rickenbacker told of wandering aimlessly in no-man's land before he was challenged by an American soldier and directed to the rear.

He declared the unnamed doughboy must have "thought I was crazy because I was wandering hatless and with no weapons within enemy rifle shot, dressed in a sheepskin coat that did not indicate my nationality".

Mr. Cox recalls meeting just such a man while on outpost duty in the Bois de Fouret sector of the Argonne, while observing fire from the 13th field artillery.

"When I heard Rickenbacker relate that story on the Army Hour I thought he must have been the fellow I saw wandering in the Argonne," Mr. Cox said. "I thought at the time he was a shell-shocked soldier and I warned him to take off for the rear before he got hurt."



SHADES OF REMAGEN. When Allied forces captured the Ludendorff bridge recently, it brought a flood of memories for Eli Cox of Newell—and this historically interesting picture of the doughboy standing "The Watch on the Rhine" of another war. The Americans this time had only a few day's use of the big span before it collapsed from a combination of damage from shellfire and bombing, but not before thousands of men had crossed over the very spot on which the World War soldier is shown standing.

3 LOSE FINAL APPEAL TO ESCAPE OHIO CHAIR

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, March 29 — Three Cincinnati Negroes, scheduled to die in Ohio's electric chair April 6 for the murder of a jeweler a year ago, lost their final hope for clemency Wednesday when Gov. Frank J. Lausche asserted he would not intervene.

Gov. Lausche said his decison was made on recommendation of the Ohio pardon and parole board.

The Negroes are Johnnie Mae Gardner, 30, who would be the second woman to be electrocuted in this state; James Willie Brown, 28, and James Jenkins. First woman to be electrocuted by Ohio was Anna Marie Hahn, executed in 1938.

Miss Gardner and her two companions were convicted July 28 for the holdup slaying of Jacob Reinstadler, who was bludgeoned to death at his store in Cincinnati last April 8.

Sarah Churchill Divorced

LONDON, March 29—Vic Oliver, stage and radio comedian was granted a divorce Wednesday from Sarah Churchill Oliver, daughter of the prime minister, on grounds of desertion. The Olivers were married in New York. Mrs. Oliver, a WAAF officer, did not contest the action.

MAN SEIZED IN WEST FOR '38 OHIO SLAYING

By The Associated Press.

LORAIN, March 28 — The finale of a seven-year-old murder mystery is expected soon with the return of Frank J. Naiberg to face first degree murder charges in connection with the 1938 slaying of Mrs. Mary Wallace.

H. B. Fletcher, federal bureau of investigation agent in charge of the Cleveland office, reports FBI officials have arrested a man whom they identified as Naiberg at Los Angeles.

The man, who registered as Harry A. Harland, was charged with "unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for the crime of murder."

Mr. Fletcher said Naiberg, "alias Harlan," will be returned to Lorain as soon as possible.

The partially-unclad body of Mrs. Wallace, mother of four children, was found in her home Feb. 17, 1938, by a 13-year-old son when he returned from school. She had been beaten with a hammer and her throat cut.

Climaxing a four-year investigation by county authorities, a Lorain county grand jury in 1942 returned a first degree murder indictment against Naiberg.

Bert Loses the War Single-Handed

Bert Childer's house burned down last week, and the only good thing that came out of it was it cured him of swearing. Bert just couldn't think of words to fit the occasion, so he just gave up.

Bert admits it was his own fault. Started with a field fire which he thought he had under control, and when he turned his back a minute for a breathing spell, the fire sprung up twice as fierce. By the time the firemen arrived, there wasn't much that they could do.

From where I sit, there's a moral in Bert's experience. A lot of us feel we've got the fires of this war under control... that we can relax a little, maybe let up on buying bonds, donating blood, or fighting inflation.

Just like Bert lost his fight against the fire, we can lose this fight against our enemy if we let down now. Because war, like fire, is never over till the last spark is extinguished.

"The American National Game of Baseball"
One of a series from an original Currier and Ives print

A Time-Mellowed AMERICAN SCENE

IT'S a far cry from the diamonds of 1862 to today's fine ball parks. TIME has changed—and improved—baseball playing and the game itself and made it the great national pastime it is today.

TIME, too, plays a major role in creating brews of extra flavorful goodness. It's this extra TIME given to the ageing that makes Webber's Ale and Beer so fine, so pleasing to the taste.

In short, every golden drop of Webber's is backed up by years of brewing skill and experience, plus fine ingredients and TIME—TIME which plays such a vital part in the brewing of Webber's Ale and Beer. Try a cold bottle today. You'll be glad you did.

Because of acute shortage of containers, please return promptly all bottles and cases to your dealer.

TRAGEDY OF WAR LEAVES GHASTLY RUINS IN MANILA

Biggest Part Of Good Homes In Residential Districts Razed Or Damaged

By JAMES HUTCHESON
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, March 29 — A drive through the once beautiful residential districts of Manila south of the Pasig river is nearly as sickening as a survey of the block after block of shattered buildings in the downtown area.

They share the ghastly scars of the most destructive chapter of the war in the southwest Pacific.

In the Pasay, Malate and Ermita districts, probably two-thirds of the better homes are destroyed or damaged. Many are only piles of ashes and rubble, with concrete steps still standing as mute reminder of a once beautiful mansion in a fence-enclosed yard.

Twisted, charred corrugated metal roofing is strewn about. Some times a bath tub or two stand out in the rubble, but many have been carted away.

Looters Have Field Day

Some of the mansions which escaped with nothing worse than a few broken windows in the fighting have suffered from the ravages that come in the wake of war. Looters had a field day.

A three-story mansion in which some of the press corps set up headquarters had beautiful wood-paneled walls on the first floor. Half of them were torn out, leaving concrete exposed. The wooden bannister was ripped off. Doors were taken.

The tragedy of Manila is burned deep.

For two weeks after the last Jap supposedly was cleaned out of Manila, Filipinos and doughboys were finding them singly or in pairs around the protective wreckage of buildings.

Four officers driving along Dewey blvd. in a jeep, all unarmed, suddenly made the alarming discovery that the fellow ambling along the side of the street was a Jap. Fortunately, the object in his hands appeared to be a can of rations instead of a grenade. An MP took over the cleanup job.

Transportation Proves Headache

Most of the Jap stragglers still have grenades. A Filipino hit a new variety of war hazard on the street yesterday. There was a sharp explosion in a group of street sweepers. A crowd dashed to the spot to find a Filipino bleeding profusely from gaping arm and hand wounds.

Three knuckles on one hand were torn away. He had been using a 20-caliber bullet as a pin to hold the handle of his street broom in place and had rapped it with a hammer to tighten it.

Transportation is a major headache. Streetcars are wrecked, rails are twisted or torn up for Jap barricades, buses are non-existent.

There are continuous streams of crowded caretelas (two-wheeled, two-seated, pony-powered rigs) along the principal arterials. There are definite signs that Manila fast is becoming a rear area. Some neckties were in evidence last night at an officers' dance in an intact apartment building.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip K. Laughlin and daughter, Seaman (1c) Dora Laughlin, a WAVE stationed at Washington, and Mrs. Robert Laughlin, all of Salem, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Finley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reed of Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. Orin Reed of Chester spent Sunday with Miss Pearle Reed.

Miss Louise Finley spent the week-end with Miss Emma Mackall of Painesville.

Homer Laughlin has returned home after spending the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Nate Lawton, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. William Foster of Beaver visited Sunday with Francis Nash, and daughter, Miss Flora Lee Nash.

SHIP PROGRAM SLASH FACES NAVY PROTEST

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 29—Secretary Forrestal said Wednesday the navy may seek reinstatement of part of the ship construction program which was canceled Tuesday.

Forrestal said the order cancelling 72 of the 84 ships of all types projected earlier this year originated with War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes, who was "so conscious of the impact of the program on manpower, that on the basis of relative demand he felt it was not wise to start."

The secretary said the initial program of 84 ships was inaugurated on the basis of "insurance," because "we do not know at what point Japan can implement a damaging attack on the fleet."

STATE OPENS SURVEY OF PENSION BENEFITS

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, March 29—Welfare Director Frazier Reams is conducting a study to determine whether Ohio's old age pension payments are keeping pace with the rising cost of living.

"I've asked for figures to determine whether this is true," Mr. Reams said, in commenting on published reports that benefit recipients spent their declining years in fear of inadequate care in event of illness.

"They're fine people, and we've got to treat them with the greatest concern," Mr. Reams added.

He pointed out that $43,595,589 was paid out in 1943 pensions and $42,428,319 last year, but that the number on pension rolls dropped from 138,402 in December, 1942, to 122,051 in December, 1944. The peak was January, 1942, with a total of 139,567.

The director estimated that 10 percent of recipients received the maximum grant of $40 monthly and explained that others were paid on the basis of need. The monthly average last year was $28.64, he said. Last month the average was $29.60 for 119,827 warrants issued, he added.

SHOOTING OF HITLER 'ON SIGHT' APPROVED

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 29—If British soldiers capture Adolf Hitler, they may decide for themselves whether to shoot him on the spot or bring him back alive, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden announced Wednesday, as Stockholm reported that high Nazi leaders from all over Germany were fleeing to their last fastness in the Bavarian Alps.

Mr. Eden made his statement in the house of commons.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Do you suffer from MONTHLY NERVOUS TENSION with its weak, tired feelings?

If functional periodic disturbances make you feel nervous, tired, restless—at such times—try this great medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Taken regularly—it helps build up resistance against such distress. Also a grand stomachic tonic. Follow label directions.

FIRST LT. PHILLIP McCLELLAND wrote his mother, Mrs. Blanche McClelland, 407 Broadway, that he met Cpl. Robert MacLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight MacLean, 615 Broadway, Wellsville, recently in France.

The meeting was especially enjoyable to Robert since "Phil" is the first person from home that he had seen in his 31 months overseas and held an added pleasure because they are related, Mrs. McClelland and Mr. MacLean being cousins.

From an engineer, Lt. McClelland, a liaison officer with Gen. Patton's army, learned where Cpl. MacLean was stationed and then paid him a visit. Robert, a member of the ground crew of the air forces, got a few days off and the two had a holiday together. During that time they were entertained in the home of a former chef of a hotel and a friend of "Phil's," near Paris and were served a tasty hot meal.

Lt. McClelland has been overseas a year.

Mrs. Lois Carroll Myers of Calcutta has received a letter from her husband, Cpl. Lee Joseph Myers, revealing that he met his brother, Radarman (3c) John R. Myers, husband of Mrs. Pauline Myers of Northside ave., on the Marianas and they spent the night together.

Cpl. Myers is an electrician at a B-29 base and has been overseas since last December. His brother was assigned to sea duty in September. They were home together in July.

Miss Dorothy Mae Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Browning, 700 West Ninth st., left Wednesday for Ft. Ogelthorpe, Ga., for her basic training in the WACs. She will serve as a medical technician at the Walter Reed General hospital, Washington.

Cpl. Albert R. Smith, 21, participated in the battle of Coblenz, according to a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Smith, of East Main st., Salineville. He is a radio operator in the signal corps with Gen. Patton's Third army.

Italy recently was the scene of a reunion between S/Sgt. Vincent Marquette and his brother, S/Sgt. Duane Marquette, according to letters they sent their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Marquette, 216 Pennsylvania ave. Vincent has been overseas 21 months and his brother was assigned to Italy last December. They hadn't seen each other for three years.

Apprentice Seaman Clifton W. Hutchison, husband of Mrs. Estell V. Hutchison, 930 St. Clair ave., and son of Mrs. Mary E. Hutchison, 1301 Railroad st., is taking his boot training at the U. S. naval center at Great Lakes, Ill. He has two daughters, Janet and Constance.

Mrs. Leona Lunger of Negley has been advised that her son, Sgt. Homer Moore Jr., has arrived in the States after three months of hospitalization in England for battle wounds received on the European front.

Promotions

Regis Cole, husband of Mrs. Mary Catherine Cole, 104 Grant st., Newell, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Cole, 529 Third st., Chester, to yeoman second class at San Bruno, Calif. He has four daughters, Patty, Betty Jane, Rose Marie and Regina Frances.

New Assignments

Seaman (2c) Joseph R. Ammon, son of Mrs. Mary Ammon, 818 Wood st., Wellsville, to the amphibious training school at Memphis, Tenn. Seaman Ammon has just concluded a nine-day leave at home following the completion of his "boot" training at the U. S. naval center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Pvt. James E. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Martin of the Substation, to France with the infantry.

Yeoman (2c) Michael A. Winters, husband of Mrs. Virginia Winters of West Ninth st., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Winters of the River rd., to the Philippines. A brother, Pfc. Ray Winters, also is in the Philippines, and another brother, Sgt. Ralph Winters, is stationed at Salina, Kas.

Pvt, Raymond D. Beaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Beaver of Claiborne ave., to somewhere in Germany with a cavalry reconnaissance outfit.

Furloughs

S/Sgt. Francis J. House is spending a 29-day furlough, and his brother, Seaman (1c) Edward House, is spending a 21-day leave with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin House, of Oakwood ave. This is the first time the brothers have seen each other in more than two years. Sgt. House will return to the hospital at Camp Crowder, Mo., for further treatment of frozen feet and wounds received June 12 in France and Jan. 12 in Luxembourg. Seaman House, who has been on sea duty for 20 months, will report to New Orleans.

Pvt. Frank A. Fisher of a tank destroyer unit is spending a 10-day delay-en route with his wife, Mrs. Jo Ann Fisher, and 15-month-old son, Buddy, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Fisher, of Calcutta. He will report to Ft. Meade, Md.

Pvt. Lester C. McKenzie has returned to the cavalry school at Camp Croft, S. C., after a 12-day furlough spent with his wife, Mrs. Virginia McKenzie, and four children, 217 Broadway.

Cpl. Homer Rutledge has returned to Quantico, Va., after a furlough with his sister, Mrs. Clifford Alcorn, of St. George st.

Petty Officer Kenneth Burns and wife and daughter, Sandra Luanna, of Providence, R. I., have concluded a leave with his mother, Mrs. Ethel Burns, of Montana ave., Chester, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McGraw, 666 Riley ave.

Marine Platoon Sgt. John A. Tolson has returned to Parris Island, S. C., to begin his duties as a drill instructor after a 32-day furlough at home with his aunt, Mrs. Meda Boyle of Salineville. Sgt. Tolson served 34 months in the Pacific and has the Presidential unit citation for participating in the Palau campaign. He also saw action in three other campaigns. His brother, Marine Sgt. William T. Tolson, who now is stationed at Camp Lajeune, New River, N. C., also has served in the Pacific.

Pvt. Mark L. Smith is spending a 10-day furlough delay-en route with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. T. Homer Smith, of Rogers. He will report to Ft. Meade, Md.

Cpl. Cody E. Deering and his brother, Aviation Radioman (2c) Ralph E. Deering, and wife are spending furloughs with Cpl. Deering and Radioman Deering's mother, Mrs. George Marsh of Globe st., and Radioman Deering's Wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bowyer of Huston ave. Cpl. Deering served 18 months in the South Pacific. His brother is stationed at the naval air station at Pensacola, Fla.

Pvt. Michael A. Ferlaino is spending a 10-day delayed-en route with his wife, Mrs. Mary Ferlaino, and children, John and Mary, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ferlaino, 2035 Michigan ave. His brother, Sgt. Anthony Ferlaino, is serving with the First army in Germany.

War Diary

By HAL BOYLE

Associated Press Staff Writer

REMAGEN Bridgehead, Germany—Operational reports said Maj. Ralph Johnson of Chappels, S. C., had led the Second battalion of the second battalion of the 60th infantry regiment to high ground east of the Wied river and occupied the key town of Rahms, which overlooks the Cologne-Frankfurt super-highway.

In a period of fast-breaking news, that report would not interest many persons. But back in Madden, Miss., it would be the biggest news of the day for one 25-year-old lieutenant colonel.

It would tell Quentin R. Hardage his old battalion was keeping the pace he had set for it.

Two weeks ago Col. Hardage was in command of the Second battalion and Maj. Johnson was his executive officer. Col. Hardage now is on a 30-day home leave.

"There is room under the quota for only one man in the entire corps for a 30-day home leave," the word came down. There was no doubt that Col. Hardage had earned that place.

The record showed he is entitled to wear the European-African-Middle East campaign ribbon, with bronze battle stars for actions in Morocco, Tunisia, Sicily, France, Belgium and Germany. He also had won the Silver Star with two Oak Leaf Clusters and one Bronze Star. That meant four separate citations for individual battlefield bravery.

THE record showed further he was entitled to wear the Purple Heart with 11 clusters. Twelve times he had been wounded in combat.

In two and a half years he had worked up from platoon to battalion commander.

But there still were some things the record did not show.

There was no mark on the paper to tell of the loneliness he felt when he was as homesick as any of the 750 men under him — and could not let any one know it because commanders are not supposed to be homesick.

There was nothing to tell of the terror of that first night landing and battle at Port Lyautey, Morocco, June 8, 1942, which soldiers hardened by even tougher subsequent engagements referred to as their "two o'clock batting practice."

It did not tell about those long months on C rations, the cliffs and Indian fighting in northern Tunisia, or about the time his ship was bombed on the way to Sicily — and Germans to kill.

THERE was no mention of England and the tense days of awaiting the invasion. And nothing of cutting across the Cotentin peninsula and through Cherbourg, the Falaise pocket and the long haul across France and Belgium into Germany, the crashing of the Siegfried line, the terrible days and nights in the Huertgen forest where sometimes the dead lay thicker than trees.

There was nothing of the pullback to Monschau to help halt the enemy's Ardennes break-through, the fight for the dams controlling the flood waters of the Roer river, or the drive to the Rhine.

It left out the way men feel who fought under him — like Pfc. Edward C. Connally of Scarsdale, N. Y.

"He was always up front," said Pvt. Connelly. If he had a platoon, company or a battalion there wasn't a man who wouldn't follow him. Wherever the hot spots were, there he was. And I have seen him give away his raincoat to a soldier or carry the rifle of a tired doughboy on a hike — sometimes as many as five or six."

ALL ALONE—Wire-haired terrier waits patiently by telephone with blanks which new master must sign to gain custody of shelter's four-legged waifs.

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 29—War-time, four-legged refugees are finding a haven at a refuge called "Orphans of the Storm".

At the 10-acre suburban establishment founded 15 years ago by Irene Castle McLaughlin, no dog or cat ever has been refused admittance, no matter what its condition.

The shelter's facilities have been taxed heavily recently to care for pets deserted by migrating war workers and others left behind when their masters joined the armed services.

Last year, "Orphans of the Storm" cared for 7,000 dogs and 1,000 cats. Of these, 4,000 dogs and 400 cats were placed in homes; the rest were put to sleep painlessly.

PRAYERS ANSWERED—Terrier pup perks up whenever Mrs. Lloyd Maxwell answers a call.

An owner who brings his pet there relinquishes all claim to the animal. A person who "adopts" a pet from the institution does not acquire full ownership. The refuge reserves the right to reclaim its animal if it finds the pet mistreated or—in case of foundlings—if its former master turns up to claim it. Any pet taken from the shelter at all times must wear a tag on its collar bearing the institution's telephone number.

Mrs. McLaughlin, who served as both president and treasurer until a year ago, now has given up the top post to devote her time to investigation of cruelty cases and to court work in cases involving animals.

Mrs. Lloyd Maxwell, new president, said the food for the shelter's tenants costs $86 a month for meat, $16 for milk, and $20 for bran and biscuit mix for the dogs. Expenses are defrayed by the donations of foster-masters and by visitors.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.: How can I save time when cleaning the bird cage?

A.: Cut eight or ten thicknesses of heavy, white paper and place at the bottom of the canary's cage. Every morning a sheet can be removed, leaving a nice clean floor. This will save much cleaning of the cage.

Q.: How can I easily shell pecans?

A.: It will be easy if boiling water is poured over them. Let them remain in the water for about a half hour, and when cracked the meats can be removed with no trouble.

Q.: How can I make a shampoo soap?

A.: An excellent shampoo can be made from bits of toilet soap that have been boiled with a little water and left in jellied form.

COUNSEL TERMS COLLETT INSANE

'Strange Acts' Cited During Clemency Hearings

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, March 29—James W. Collett, awaiting execution for the triple McCoy murders, should receive clemency because he is a "psychopathic person" given to "strange acts", his counsel contended at a hearing before the state pardon and parole commission.

Charles Kirk and Allen Smith, Wilmington attorneys representing the 61-year-old Clinton county hog breeder, asserted at a clemency hearing Wednesday that recent public statements by Collett and what they described as an attempt to bribe his way out of Ohio penitentiary's "death row"—substantiated their claim he is mentally unbalanced and should receive mercy.

Simon Leis of Cincinnati, special prosecutor at Collett's trial in Washington Court House, declared at the hearing that the wiping out of the McCoy family was "one of the most atrocious crimes in Ohio—committed for gain" and insisted clemency was not justified.

Dr. Howard M. Brundage, Columbus alienist, said he believes Collett knows right from wrong and the consequences of an illegal act and, therefore, is not insane in the legal sense of the term.

Mr. Kirk asserted the prosecution has not definitely linked Collett to the crime except through a confession obtained in Toledo with the aid of a lie detector. Collett, since arrival at the penitentiary, has maintained he is innocent.

Collett has told newsmen his confession was made when he was in a weakened condition.

Mr. Kirk did not amplify his statement about the prisoner attempting to bribe his way out.

John B. Hill, Fayette county prosecutor, said no character witnesses came forward at the trial to testify in Collett's behalf and expressed belief the McCoy family was wiped out so that Collett's family could inherit the property. McCoy was Collett's brother-in-law.

Mell G. Underwood Jr. represented the governor at the proceedings, which were conducted by the full board. Other members of the commission, besides Sherwood, are E. E. Everett of Lima and Lawrence O. Payne of Cleveland.
